Mobutu's Army Gains 'Victory'

Leopoldville, The Congo, Tuesday (AP)—The Congo army of Col. Joseph Mobutu attacked the U.N.-defended Ghana embassy residence with machine guns and armored cars in an effort to seize a top diplomat accused of conspiracy against the Congo regime.

There were uncounted casualties, including Mobutu's chief aide, who was reported killed by the U.N. side.

In the midst of a 3-hour battle the U.N. Command yielded and agreed to hand over the diplomat, Nathaniel Welbeck, for expulsion from the Congo. But first efforts to remove him, the U.N. command said, were met with Congolese gunfire and the shooting was resumed early Tuesday.

The whole battle area was blacked out and the U.N. said another effort would be made to get the diplomat out in daylight later Tuesday.

The U.N. command accused the Congolese army of violating an earlier truce agreement and said the Congo soldiers continued firing at the U.N. defending troops.

The U.N. officials said the Congolese soldiers were out of control and refused to obey a cease-fire arranged with Mobutu, the Congo's strong man.

Gunfire rattled in a wide area around Welbeck's besieged residence. It was defended by 150 Tunisian infantrymen and a squad of Ghana riot police.

Whizzing

Bullets whizzed through the night and early morning in the vicinity of the U.N. headquarters building.

Indian Brig. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye, acting chief of the U.N. mission, was turned back once by a burst of Congolese gunfire when he tried to pass through the ring of Congolese soldiers to get Welbeck out.

The Ghana embassy is on the bank of the Congo river in an elite residential area.

Among the casualties was Mobutu's second in command, Col. J. Kokolo, who was killed, the U.N. command said, by a Tunisian machine gunner in the U.N. residence.

Unknown

The exact numbers of casualties in the 3-hour battle could not be determined immediately. Estimates varied from 7 killed and 7 wounded to 3 killed and 4 wounded. U.N. officials said 2 Congolese were killed.

The U.N. command finally announced it is bowing to Mobutu's demand for expulsion of Ghana charge d'affaires Nathaniel Welbeck. He is accused by Mobutu of plotting to reinstate deposed premier Patrice Lumumba.

Welbeck had defied the expulsion order, and the U.N. command—trying to remain neutral in a bilateral scrap between Ghana and Mobutu's Congo regime—had previously refused to help Mobutu oust Welbeck.

Soviets Say U.N. Chiefs In Collusion

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union Monday night accused the U.N. command of collaborating with the forces of Col. Joseph Mobutu and demanded an immediate report from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on the latest turn of events in the Congo.

The Soviet Union reacted swiftly to news from Leopoldville that Mobutu's army had attacked the residence of a top Ghanaian diplomat and forced the U.N. command to obey an order that he be expelled.

A Soviet delegation statement was issued as the General Assembly plunged into a night debate on whether to accept the recommendation that a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu be given the long vacant Congo assembly seat.

Kasavubu defended the action of the Congolese army in using force to compel the expulsion of the Ghanaian.

But the Soviet Union asserted the U.N. command was fraternizing with Mobutu's armed forces in a move that coincided with attempts by the United States to push through recognition of Kasavubu by the assembly.

The statement charged that the U.N. command was under pressure from the United States to cooperate with those "who began to initiate gangster attacks on the U.N forces themselves."

The Soviet Union in the past has charged that Kasavubu and Mobutu are dominated by the West. It also has been critical of the U.N. role in the Congo.

U.N. diplomats saw no change in the relations between the U.N. command and the Mobutu regime.

They pointed out that the U.N. special representative, Rajeshwar Dayal, recently had blamed Mobutu for much of the disorder in the Congo. They said the military clash in Leopoldville also raised doubts as to any close cooperation between Mobutu and the U.N. command.

Disgruntled Workers Seek Advice

Atlas Workers Ponder Strike

. . . PAY HASSLE ARISES

By Nancy Ray

Angry workers at the 12 Atlas missile sites being constructed around Lincoln threatened to walk out Tuesday because some paychecks were bouncing at local banks, and other workers had not received paychecks for up to 3 weeks, union officials charged.

Crux of the trouble, according to a Laborers Local 1140 spokesman, is the subcontracting firm — Hansen-Kashner of Fresno, Calif., which has reportedly "gone broke."

Paychecks of the firm were not honored by local banks starting last Friday, and the Fresno firm officially pulled out of the Lincoln Atlas construction work at midnight Sunday, leaving 190 members of Local 1140, and other union workers, either without pay checks for back work or with checks not being honored.

One Lincoln bank was reported to be cashing the workers' checks again Monday afternoon.

Promises Pay

Western Contracting Corp., general contractor for the missile site work, has promised to straighten out the paycheck snarl, according to Bud Finnell, Lincoln Local 1140 business representative, and the firm has posted a sign at its Lincoln offices promising payment to the workers at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

"There are a lot of angry men at the sites," Finnell reported, "and they aren't going to stay on the job if this isn't straightened out."

He said all 12 sites would be affected in a walkout because the Fresno firm was doing the cement work on the underground silos at all 12 intercontinental ballistics missile bases.

700 Affected

Leonard Schaefer, business manager of Local 1140, said in Omaha Monday that about 600 to 700 men are involved in the cement work, all of whom have been affected by the Fresno firm's withdrawal.

He added that Western contracting itnended to make the checks good, but that despite several such promises, this has not been done.

Mason Travis, Western's project manager for the Atlas construction, confirmed that the Hansen-Kashner firm had defaulted, and that the firm's San Francisco "bonding company immediately took over the financial arrangements."

"Money has been deposited in the First Continental National Bank in Lincoln to cover the workers' checks," Travis assured, adding that Western was also guaranteeing payment on the checks.

Travis said that payroll checks for the workers employed by the Fresno firm during the last workweek ending Sunday would be available to the workers Tuesday—3 days earlier than usual—"and I see no reason for a walkout."

Workers Transferred

Workers of the defaulted firm "needed to complete the work" were automatically transferred to the Western Contracting payroll Monday, Travis explained.

The work of the Hansen-Kashner firm was approximately 85% complete, Travis said, and their default "will not interfere with our work schedule."

He said the firm's failure "was due to the tremendous tempo of work on these projects which goes on 7 days a week. We don't have a 5-day week in this work," he added.

QUICK-DRAWER WOUNDED BY UNLOADED GUN

Sidney (UPI) — Eddie Cordova, 21, Sidney, a quickdraw enthusiast was shot in the leg Monday by an "unloaded" gun.

Cordova was shot in the right thigh by Sidney service station operator Lonnie Hancock, while the two were "dueling."

Cordova had been practicing quick-draw in front of a mirror in the service station. He decided to practice with Hancock, who was sitting in a chair. Hancock pulled a .22 caliber pistol out of the desk and fired at Cordova. Nothing happened.

But the second time he pulled the trigger the gun fired and a bullet struck Cordova.

Hancock said he thought the gun was unloaded. Cordova is being held for observation at a Sidney hospital, but his condition is described as not serious.

Speaker Rayburn Sees Swift Action

Washington (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn predicted that the new 87th Congress will give swift approval to a number of top legislative items favored by president-elect John F. Kennedy.

Rayburn said he believed that the new session opening in January will "move along pretty fast" om bills dealing with depressed areas, housing, school construction aid and minimum wage.

$1.5 Million Apt. Gets Go-Ahead

By Gerry Deal

As a result of City Council action Monday, the S.O.S. Corporation will be able to construct the proposed 12-story $1.5 million apartment building at 13th and J.

The City Council approved a city zoning ordinance reducing land-use requirements for apartment buildings in the central business disttrict to 220 square feet of lot area per dwelling unit from the former 500 square feet.

The proposed 95-unit Sky Park Manor has 224 square feet of lot area per living unit under plans presented the Council.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden had recommended that the requirements be dropped to 400 square feet, but said a 200 foot minimum would encourage overcrowding in old buildings, add to traffic congestion and require only two-fifths of the land clearance that would be accomplished under the present ordinance.

However, William Aitken, attorney representing S.O.S., pointed out that it was felt that the apartment building would reduce traffic problems in that the residents would be within walking distance of downtown business establishments and stores, and would not need to take cars.

The City-County Planning Commission had recommended the reduction in the requirements.

The consensus of the council was that it would help downtown Lincoln. Mayor "Pat" Boyles was the only council member voting against the ordinance.

TED SORENSEN AT PEAK-LEVEL

Kennedy To Cut White House Staff

Palm Beach, Fla (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy expects to wipe out the powerful post of assistant president and to slash the White House staff sharply.

Kennedy's chief liaison man with the Eisenhower administration, Clark M. Clifford, outlined the prospects to newsmen after all-day sessions with the man who will be the next chief executive.

Clifford said there has been no discussion of a heavy cut or big overturn on down the line through the various government departments and agencies.

Youthful, 32-year-old Theodore Sorensen, the Nebraskan, Clifford said, will come closest to performing the duties now handled by the about to be abolished position of "The" assistant to the president.

Clifford said, however, he would rather not comment on whether Sorensen will become the ranking member of the White House staff.

Special Counsel Title

The title Kennedy has listed for Sorensen is that of special counsel. He could very well wind up with some sort of vague unofficial designation as assistant president, corresponding to the role of Harry L. Hopkins in the Roosevelt administration.

Through the years, Sorensen probably has been closer to Kennedy than any other person, in launching and helping direct the carefully conceived campaign that will put Kennedy in the White House Jan. 20.

Wilton B. Persons now is the assistant to President Eisenhower. Before him it was Sherman Adams, who resigned under congressional attacks that he accepted favors in return for favors.

Back in the Truman administration, John R. Steelman held the position.

The White House staff now has 51 persons in top roles — not counting the clerks and secretaries. In the Truman administration, Clifford said the total was about 15. He wouldn't speculate on how many such positions Kennedy will have — positions such as press and appointment secretaries, and administrative assistants.

Nebraska Law Grad

Sorensen is a serious, dark-haired, bespectacled intellectual who was at the top of his class at the University of Nebraska Law School. He has been at Kennedy's side since 1952, when he signed up as a research assistant and speechwriter.

He still helps out in that department. But he does much more. He gave Kennedy a hand with the nearly successful attempt to land the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1956. And he started in with Kennedy a few weeks later mapping the road to the White House.

To Kennedy, he is a man "you can trust implicity." A person inclined to stay in the background. Sorensen probably will be one of the youngest men ever to hold a governmental position of such responsibility, just as Kennedy was the youngest man ever elected to the White House.

Clifford said also that:

1. In indicating he intends to eliminate the job of the assistant to the president, Kennedy said that "he wanted to be in close personal contact with each member of his staff, rather than setting up a man between him and the other members of his staff."

2. As for prospects of a major personnel shakeup throughout the government; "I know only that Sen. Kennedy intends to bring his own men in, in policy-making jobs. He intends to obtain complete and full control of the executive branch, through the appointment of those policy positions. Now, as far as other personnel are concerned who are farther down the line, I have no doubt that many of them who are technically expert will be retained."

3. There is nothing to add on Cabinet appointments beyond what Kennedy has said—that these will be coming along sometime after Thanksgiving.

4. The choice of a budget director should be made by Dec. 15 at the latest—preferably by Dec. 1. Kennedy is holding off in order to obtain the best possible man.

5. Kennedy now is giving priority attention to some 80 jobs. These are the key positions in the White House, plus the Cabinet, sub-cabinet and others of similar rank—the ones to be filled first in taking over control of the government.

Below these are 400 to 500 other jobs—jobs that have become policy making responsibilities. These are the ones held by persons just below the level of assistant secretaries, such as division heads and members of agencies and commissions, Clifford said.

SAG Members Vote For Strike On Commercials

Beverly Hills, Calif. (AP) — The Screen Actors Guild Monday night authorized a strike against producers of filmed "station break" commercials.

The vote, taken by mail and announced at a mass meeting, was 4,369 to 549. The time of the strike was not set, but a spokesman indicated it would be called soon.

Similar action has been taken by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, with whom the SAG has jointly been conducting negotiations with producers, TV networks and advertising agencies. The contracts for both unions expired last Tuesday.

The guild declined to be specific about its demands, but said they included a rate of pay based on the number of listeners in a given area.

A spokesman said "all indications are that the strike will start very shortly after results of the vote are presented to negotiators for the networks and producers."

University Makes Bid For Access Rerouting

. . . WANTS IT MOVED FURTHER WEST OF CAMPUS

By Virgil Falloon

University of Nebraska officials made their bid before the State Highway Advisory Commission Monday for a change in proposed routing of the Interstate Highway access road to downtown Lincoln.

The University seeks to divert the northbound leg of the access route away from the west edge of the campus, moving it further west than the North 10th location proposed by the state.

The commission took no immediate action but representatives of the University agreed to cooperate with the Department of Roads in arriving at cost estimates of the diversion to be delivered to the commission at its Jan. 23 meeting.

Discussion indicated the proposed routing would cost much more in right-of-way acquisition, but how much more has not been determined.

Acting State Engineer John Hossack said the state is willing to consider the new location, but added:

"We're only kidding ourselves to think the Federal Bureau of Public Roads is going to pick up the more expensive route. If the University is in a position to buy the property, we can work out a new route."

Diagonal Swing

University officials agreed the northbound route would have to begin at 10th and R, but proposed it swing diagonally westward at S, keeping as close to the southbound 9th-street leg as possible.

Hossack said route planning south of Oak Lake had not progressed beyond the point of making changes if the additional cost could be absorbed by other than highway money.

The engineer expressed surprise to the University's objections since there was none made at a public hearing held a year ago before the City Council concerning the presently-proposed route.

"The route now is the same

MORE TYPICAL WEATHER DUE FOR NEBRASKA

Nebraskans will experience typical November weather at last as the weatherman promises a general drop in daily temperatures Tuesday.

According to the Weather Bureau, skies will be generally fair Tuesday as panhandle highs reach the 40s, and range to the 50s in the Southeast.

Temperature extremes were represented across the state Monday as Ainsworth reported a state high of 77, while North Platte recorded a cold 19 as state low. The mercury reached 65 in Lincoln Monday.

Family-Erasing Mishaps Kill 28

Chicago (AP) — A rash of family-erasing car accidents has marred the nation's safety record in advance of the 4-day Thanksgiving Day weekend starting Thursday.

Four separate accidents in the last 10 days killed 28 persons and virtually wiped out 3 families. The tragedies prompted the National Safety Council to issue a caution warning to all motorists.

By grisly coincidence, each of the 4 accidents killed 7 persons each.

Seven of the victims were killed Monday when a train struck their car at a crossing in Toltec, Ariz., a few hours after the first bodies of an entire family of 7 were fished from a lake near Eugene, Ore.

The first fatal stroke of 7 in the current series was sounded Nov. 11 when Richard Childester, 29; his wife, Evelyn, 25, and 5 other members of their family were returning home after visiting their youngest son, Tommy, 1, ill with virus in a hospital at Aurora, Ill. Police were told a trailer-truck collided with another car, jack-knifed and tumbled onto their car, crushing them to death. Tommy was the only survivor.

Then, 7 days later the Rev. John Eastman, 29, a Presbyterian minister in Southern Minnesota, loaded his 6 children into the family car and started out from their Lewiston home to visit a friend in a nearby city while his wife attended a school class play. They were killed when the car struck a bridge abutment.

The entire family of Howard R. Lemons, 39, an Oregon lumber company executive, drowned, presumably Sunday, when their car slid past a guard rail near Eugene, Ore., during a rainstorm. Searchers found their car under water Monday in Dexter Lake. Other victims were Mrs. Lemons, 35, and their 5 children.

Four children, two women and a man were the victims of the Toltec, Ariz., accident.

Dead were Mrs. Annabelle Martin, 30; her son, Elliott, 5, and her daughter, Barbara, 3; Mrs. Ralph Jewel, 26, and her two sons, Leroy, 3, and Rusty, 15 months, and Benjamin Martin, 37, brother-in-law of Mrs. Martin.

Their car was dragged about a half-mile before the 55-car the Southern Pacific freight came to a halt.

Commenting on the accidents, Harry Porter Jr., director of traffic safety for the National Safety Council, said:

"Such tragic accidents as these multiple killers, shocking in their senselessness, should serve as grim reminders of the ever-present potential dangers of driving."

Welcome Mat Out For Leading Farm Family

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

The welcome mat was out for Nebraska's 1960 Honor Farm Family as Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hoagland and daughters of Hastings arrived in Lincoln Monday night.

Former Hastings residents met the Hoagland family at the Cornhusker on their arrival.

The honor family award is made annually by the Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star from nominations made by the public to recognize state farm and ranch families whose accomplishments show the best in agriculture.

Waiting for the Honor Farm Family to arrive were countless messages, letters and wires from friends throughout the state congratulating the Hoaglands on their honor.

While Mr. & Mrs. Hoagland were busy receiving best wishes from their friends, the daughters—Judy 15, Janet 12, and Nancy 5, had other things in mind.

First Duty

Their first official duty on arrival was to check the malted milks in Lincoln.

The young ladies termed Capital City refreshments as "real good, just the kind we like."

Tuesday will be a busy day for Nebraska's Honor Family.

Following breakfast, a tour of Lincoln's mammoth grain storage will be made with a morning coffee scheduled at Equity Union Grain Co.

A mid-morning tour of the Journal-Star Printing Co. will proceed a noon luncheon at the University Club.

Here the family will be joined by friends, government and city officials and representatives of the grain industry for presentation of the Honor Farm Family Award and the $500 prize that goes with being selected the farm family of 1960 that typifies the best in Nebraska agriculture.

The afternoon schedule includes a trip to the Governor's office, a tour of the Governor's mansion and a visit to the College of Agriculture.

The day ends with a 4 p.m. coffee on the College of Agriculture campus.

NU Requests Access Route Further West

as then within a matter of feet," he added.

NU Chancellor Clifford Hardin said the alternate route proposed would keep the access as far way from the campus as possible and allow for more westward expansion.

Business Manager Carl Donald cited these objections to the state-proposed route:

—the 100-foot street would come within 30 feet of the Law College building (10th and R) and cause noise and vibration.

—a proposed addition to Brace Laboratory (physics) would also be affected by vibration, particularly acute because of sensitive instruments.

—the central receiving dock on the west side of Memorial Stadium would have traffic route difficulties.

—the development of Avery Avenue to reach University property to the northwest would be bottlenecked.

The University's proposed route would involve such high-value properties as Northwestern Metal Company and Hill Hatchery.

However, Northwestern President Leo Hill suggested that the University, highway department and involved property owners should sit down and "lay our cards on the table" to determine if the alternate route is feasible.

University Regent Clarence Swanson of Lincoln suggested University engineers help the State Highway Department engineers in a restudy of the problem.

Regent Richard Adkins suggested the state should consider spending $1.5 million for a highway relocation to protect the University's $35 million investment in brick and mortar.

Ike Planning To Go Quail-Hunting In Vacation Windup

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower will end his 27th—and perhaps last—official Georgia vacation Tuesday with a quail hunt.

The President got in a final round of golf in sunny 70 degree weather Monday after arranging to fly to Albany, some 250 miles southwest of Augusta, to test his skill with a shotgun.

The White House announced that the President would fly direct to Washington Wednesday afternoon from Albany, ending a relaxed two-week rest which began the day after the election.

At Albany the President will hunt quail as he rides behind mule-drawn wagons over the showplace plantation grounds of oil executive W. Alton (Pete) Jones, a frequent golfing companion.

Supreme Court Enters Vote Redistricting Fight

. . . City Areas Displeased With Present Lineup

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court, in what could be an historic step, Monday entered the fight by metropolitan areas to cut down the disproportionate voting power of rural voters.

Specifically, the court agreed to look into the refusal of the Tennessee Legislature to reapportion seats in the State Legislature since 1901.

If the court later decides, after hearing arguments on both sides, to rule on the controversy it could have nationwide repercussions. Similar situations of disparity in relative voting power between rural and metropolitan areas exist in many states.

The Tennessee Constitution requires reapportionment of the General Assembly every 10 years by counties or districts according to the number of qualified voters.

The court made no comment in agreeing to review the case.

The litigation was brought by a group of voters living in metropolitan areas in Tennessee.

Attorneys seeking to compel a redistricting included city attorneys of Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville. Some mayors also intervened in the proceeding.

In other actions Monday, the court:

—Dismissed an appeal by Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning physicist, in his fight against being forced to name persons who helped him solicit signatures on a petition against nuclear testing.

Pauling, a professor at the California Institute of Technology, appealed to the courts after the Senate Internal Security subcommittee ordered him to produce the names.

—Ruled 5-4 against reopening the case of Gus Polites of Detroit whose naturalized citizenship was revoked in 1953 on grounds of past membership in the Communist Party.

Polites sought to reopen the case in light of a 1958 Supreme Court ruling that mere membership without knowledge of the party's advocacy of overthrow of the government by force is insufficient to cancel citizenship.

Bus Catches On Fire Here

A Lincoln City Lines' bus caught on fire early Monday evening just moments after the last passenger had departed.

Driver of the bus John Humer, 29, of 1450 So. 16th, said he had dropped his last passenger off at 11th and N and was going west on N between 10th and 9th when an "explosion" rocked the back of the bus.

The crippled bus was stalled at 9th and N where firemen quickly extinguished the flames leaping from the engine of the bus.

The fire caused extensive damage to the engine and minor damage to the interior and exterior of the bus.

One bus driver speculated the fire was caused by faulty wiring.

Humer, who was returning to the Lincoln City Lines' garage at 7th and J after making a run from College View, said that if there had been passengers in the back seat of the bus they probably would have been scalded by the explosion.

Mailer Arrested

New York (AP)—Author Norman Mailer was arrested Monday night on a charge of stabbing his wife, Adele, during the weekend. Mrs. Mailer is in critical condition at University Hospital.

Mailer was charged with felonious assault after he was questioned several hours at a police station.

$56,000 Damage Suit Filed In Accident

June M. Weber of Lincoln filed a $56,939 damage suit Monday in Lancaster District Court against Alan M. Marshall and Morris C. Scott.

She alleges she was injured May 2, 1959, while riding in a taxi cab driven by Marshall when it was in collision with a car driven by Scott at 27th and Cornhusker.

Yellow Cab Inc., owner of the cab, also is named as a defendant.

Johnsons Clutter Up Everglades

Miami (UPI) — The Coast Guard, Civil Air Patrol and deputies called a chagrined halt Monday to their search for a man named Johnson reported missing in the Everglades.

The searchers found 4 times as many Johnsons as they sought and none needed help.

William Mitchell, a friend of Olin Johnson of Key Largo, saw Johnson's empty car parked Saturday beside the Tamiami Trail in the Everglades 40 miles west of Miami.

Mitchell reported Olin missing when he did not show up at a nearby hunter's camp by dark. A search began Sunday.

The search was called off when Alben Johnson of Miami came out of the swamp after hunting near Turner's river and was mistaken for Olin.

It was called off again after Alden C. Johnson of South Miami was found deer hunting from a swamp buggy and got mixed up with Olin, too.

It was called off conclusively when Olin Johnson and his wife Helen were found in their hunting cabin in the woods, wondering why anyone should be looking for them.

Among those grateful for the search's end was Mrs. Olen Johnson of Hialeah. She doesn't know the Olin Johnsons, but got repeated telephone calls most of Sunday from searchers because of the similarity of names.

$110,000 Damage Suit Filed Here

Michael Kalita of 726 Vine filed a $110,000 damage suit Monday in Lancaster District Court against Dale Burkland of 4543 St. Paul.

Kalita filed the suit on behalf of himself and his son, Peter, 15. He alleges his son was injured July 20 when the motorcycle on which he was riding was in collision with a car driven by Burkland.

The accident occurred at 56th and Cornhusker.

Luedke Auto Sales, owner of the car Burkland was driving, also was named a defendant.

Hewett Funeral Set Wednesday

Graveside services for James K. Hewett, 70, who died in Omaha Sunday, will be 2 p.m. Wednesday at Wyuka Cemetery.

A former Lincoln resident until 1944, he was a retired engineer with the U.S. District Engineers and a 1913 graduate of the University of Nebraska.

He was a member of the Lincoln Lancaster Lodge No. 45, A F& AM and the Omaha First Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Anna V.; a daughter, Helen; a son, James of Waynesboro, Va.; a sister, Helen B. Hewett of Cleveland, Ohio, and 4 grandchildren.

Thief Steals Deadly Poison From Truck

Philadelphia (UPI) — A thief broke into an exterminators truck here Monday and stole a bottle of poison so deadly that a single drop would mean certain death because there is no known antidote, police said.

The General Sanitation Co., owner of the truck, identified the poison as sodium fluoracetate, an odorless, tasteless fluid with the color and consistency of grape juice.

The company and police warned anyone who finds the bottle not to open it. The company said someone who removed the cap could get a small bit on his hands and fataly poison himself by eating or even smoking a cigaret.

The truck was parked by Peter Felino, 24, on a South Philadelphia street while he worked in a nearby house. Felino discovered on his return to the truck that it had been broken open and a spray gun with $55 was missing.

The theft of the poison was not discovered, however, until late in the evening when Felino returned to the company plant at the end of his work day and a routine inventory of his truck was made.

Norstad Wants U.S. To Relax Its Tight A-Control

. . Proposes Equal Sharing With NATO Members

By David Mason

Paris (AP) — Gen. Lauris Norstad, proposed in effect Monday that the Atlantic Alliance become a nuclear power, with member nations sharing equal control of the weapons.

The 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) already has nuclear missile warheads at its disposal, but they are under tight control of the United States and in some cases Britain

Norstad is supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe. Speaking to the annual NATO parliamentarian conference, he said "there should be a basic pool of atomic weapons with an equal weapons."

Johnson Speaks

U.S. Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson was in the audience.

Johnson had assured the some 200 parliamentarians that the recent U.S. election was in no way "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

Norstad's views on the future of the alliance were presented against a background of much recent discussion of what role NATO should take as nuclear weapons are being developed by the 3 major atomic powers — the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

France has tested two small atomic bombs and is moving ahead to create her own independent nuclear striking force. This has brought some fears that an increasing number of other nations will be making their own atomic weapons, creating a nuclear arms race which would defy international control.

Dramatic New Step

Norstad said greater control of atomic weapons by NATO "could be a great and dramatic new step" which might meet the desires of other nations to have their national nuclear stocks.

Johnson, who was warmly greeted and applauded by the parliamentarians, emphasized that he was speaking as a senator and not as a member of President-elect John F. Kennedy's new administration.

He indicated he will press for a broader scope for NATO than that desired by the Eisenhower administration.

Smith Put His Estate in Joint Names and Cost His Family $16,000 in Unnecessary Federal Estate Taxes

Smith had an estate of $150,000 which he put in "joint name" with his wife in order to split the estate in half for tax purposes, in event of his death. He was correct in assuming that the federal estate tax at his death would thus be reduced to $1,050.

But he overlooked the opportunity for an additional estate tax saving to his children of over $16,000! True, he reduced the tax at his death, but he did not reduce the tax upon the subsequent death of Mrs. Smith. Under the joint property arrangement, the estate tax at Mrs. Smith's death will be about $17,600. By proper planning this tax could be reduced to $1,050.

Thus the combined estate of Mr. & Mrs. Smith is over $18,600. By proper planning their combined tax would have been $2,100!

Smith would have been better advised had he kept his property in his own name and in his will created two trusts. The first trust would include half of his adjusted gross estate and would qualify for the marital deduction. Mrs. Smith would receive the entire income from this "Marital Trust" and would have the power to dispose of the principal by her will. The second trust would consist of the residue of Smith's estate. Mrs. Smith could have the income from the residuary trust also, but at her death the principal would be disposed of according to his will. For example, his will could direct that at his wife's death, the principal be divided among their children or left in trust for their benefit.

By correct use of the "Marital Deduction" only half of the estate would be taxed at Smith's death and would not be taxed again. The other half, and only the other half, would be taxed at the subsequent death of Mrs. Smith. By the joint property method, half of the estate is taxed at Smith's death and the entire estate at the subsequent death of Mrs. Smith.

If the entire estate is in the husband's name and his will leaves it outright to his wife, the tax results are the same as under the joint arrangement.

Using two trusts as above outlined minimizes estate tax liability and increases family security.

Grange Reaffirms Commodity Stand

Parity Programs Favored

Winston-Salenm, N.C. (AP) — The National Grange Monday worked to hammer out a farm program aimed at giving farmers an income comparable to other segments of the American economy.

The Grange, holding its 94th annual convention here, adopted portions of the report of its agriculture committee which asserted that the present income position of the nation's farm population "'is an unreasonable, unjustified and completely intolerable istuation." The committee declared hte situation "contains the seeds of disaster to our national economy and position of free world leadership."

The Grange reaffirmed its traditional support of a 'commodity by commodity" approach in seeking solutions to farm problems and urged "domestic parity programs for wheat, rice, cotton, soybeans and other commodities to which they may be applicable."

In a statement of policy, the Grange said it favors:

1. Creation of a contingency reserve of food and feeds, isolated from markets to prevent depressing prices, and to be used only in national emergencies.

2. A food for peace program in co-operation with other nations "to make surpluses available to the less fortunate people of the world."

3. Continuation of school lunch program and distribution of surplus food to depressed areas.

Oxford Coop's Growth Cited

Oxford — At the 41st annual meeting of the Oxford Farmers Cooperative Exchange Inc., growth of the coop since its start in 1920 was emphasized.

Frank E. Rambo of the Westcentral Cooperative Grain Co., Omaha, told the group, "This cooperative started operations in 1929 with less than a $10,000 investment in a 20,000 bushel, wooden elevator. Through progressive steps, the company has increased its facilities and services until it now has over 350,000 bushels of storage capacity and a new worth in excess of $200,000."

The audit for the fiscal year ended April 30 showed a net savings of $17,891.11 which was applied on the new concrete elevator indebtedness, it was revealed. Sales and other income for the period exceeded $160,000. A two per cent cash dividend was paid on stock held by the members.

Ben Shepker has served as manager of the association since 1942.

Affidavit Alleges Deputy Mistreated Prisoner Oct. 6

An affidavit filed Monday in Lancaster District Court in support of a new trial request for Robert Manwiller alleges that a deputy sheriff mistreated a prisoner Oct. 6.

S. Sgt. Orville L. Parrish, 31, of the Lincoln Air Force Base, states in the affidavit that Dep. Sheriff Robert Lane pushed him into a patrol car early the morning of Oct. 6 after arresting him at Steve's Steak House in West Lincoln.

Parrish also alleges that Lane, upon arrival at the county jail, knocked a cigar from his mouth, knocked his billfold from his hand and pushed him off balance as he was being put into a jail cell. Parrish alleges Lane slammed the cell door on his hand as he fell, cutting off part of one of the fingers on his right hand.

Parrish states in the affidavit that he "did nothing at any time to provoke" the treatment.

A disturbing the peace charge is pending against Parrish in County Court as a result of the incident, but he has not yet been arraigned on the charge.

The connection between the Oct. 6 incident and Manwiller's request for a new trial was not made clear by the affidavit.

Manwiller, 38 was found guilty recently by a jury of a charge of assault with intent to kill, wound or maim. The charge resulted from an incident last April 19 when Manwiller allegedly took Dep. Lane's pistol from him during a struggle and then fired at another deputy, William Jones. The bullet grazed Jones' stomach, causing a minor wound.

Manwiller is awaiting a ruling on his new trial request.

A notation on the Oct. 6 jail log in connection with the Parrish incident states that Parrish was "very belligerent" and "cursing" when brought in, and that he refused to be searched.

$200,00 Issue On Hebron Ballot

Hebron — A special election has been called here Dec. 13 on a proposed $200,000 bond issue to provide additional space for Hebron schools.

The plan calls for 5 classrooms and a multipurpose room to be erected just south of the present grade school, and an addition to the high school of 4 classrooms, junior high reference library, and expansion of lunchroom and toilet facilities. The planned construction totals 14,883 square feet.

Proponents claim the bond issue can be retired with an increased levy of 2.4 mills.

The school board now rents 3 rooms from Sacred Heart parish but is faced with the prospect of renting from 6 to 9 rooms next year if the use of temporary facilities must be continued.

A $239,000 plan was turned down decisively by voters here last spring.

Line Hard To Draw

WILLIAM O. DOBLER

As might have been expected, there is evidence that the closeness of the Nov. 8 election is being over-emphasized in many quarters. It is a fact that President-elect John F. Kennedy won by a very narrow margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon and that will have a sobering effect on Kennedy's program. It is also true that the GOP picked up strength in the House and Senate and that will tend to slow the Kennedy program down.

But while these restraining factors are present, it is ridiculous to believe that Kennedy will carry on the affairs of the government as Nixon would have or as President Eisenhower has done for the past eight years. Prior to the election, Kennedy said that "I want to be a president who will regain that office for the people. I have no wish to be known as a narrowly partisan president, or as a private-interest president. I want to be president of all the people. But I do not intend, if successful, to ignore party leadership or party responsibility—and I do not intend to forget that I am a Democrat . . .

Restrained But Not Directed

"I hope to set before the people our unfinished agenda—to indicate their obligations—and not simply follow their every whim and pleasure. I want to be a president who acts as well as reacts; who originates programs as well as study groups; who masters complex problems as well as one-page memoranda. I want to be a president who is the chief executive in every sense of the word . . ."

There are no reservations in that statement based on the size of the victory he expected in November. In winning even a narrow victory, Kennedy overcame a host of handicaps which many people believed would make it impossible for him to come out on top. And as his aides have said, it is the fact that he won, not the margin by which he won, that is important.

Thus, there is a peculiar combination of restraining forces and incentives in Kennedy's election. The Massachusetts senator will undoubtedly proceed with more care and caution by virtue of his narrow win than he would have had he rolled up a plurality of millions of votes. And when he does present his program in Congress, it will find more opposition than it would have under the dividing lines found there in the 1960 session. But Kennedy will still move forward in a decisive way on both the domestic and foreign front.

With Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at his side, he will have a legislative ally such as was not enjoyed by President Eisenhower. Also, there are still heavy majorities of Democrats in both the House and Senate and they will be called upon this time to respond to the leadership of an administration with the same political affiliation as their own. Kennedy, therefore, has an advantage which Eisenhower never enjoyed and this will do a lot to offset the GOP gains in Congress—gains which are further offset by the return of a number of outstanding GOP liberals.

The difficulty in determining just what the Kennedy program will be comes when you attempt to deal in specifics. The real answer as to what his approach will be will not be known until he makes concrete proposals to Congress. Program details were not even outlined during the campaign, with some partial exceptions on the domestic side.

Speaking to North Atlantic Treaty Organization representatives in Paris, Vice President-elect Johnson pointed out that Kennedy's election was not a repudiation of the policies of President Eisenhower. In this he meant that Kennedy fully appreciates the necessity of a strong U.S. alliance with the free nations of Western Europe. But Johnson also spoke of a new generation of Americans coming to power in the U.S. and a stilling of the voice of isolation.

What he seemed to be saying was virtually what Kennedy said during the campaign — what Eisenhower's administration has done is not as vital as what it has failed to do. There needs to be ingredients other than force and money in the U.S. foreign policy and much the same thing can be said of our allies. These ingredients need to be mixed with others and done with a great deal more compassion and understanding. And the product we seek to end up with needs to have a more unselfish purpose. Of course, it is aimed eventually at our own security but so aimed through the security and progress of all the world under principles of democracy. Rather than any weakening of the European alliance, there will be a greater challenge hurled at it.

Recipe For Progress

Rather than surrendering of any position or influence in Asia or the Middle East, there will be a renewed and redirected effort to comsolidate and strengthen the forces of freedom. The position of the next administration really cannot be made clear except by that administration itself but to say its mandate is conservative and its program will be likewise is without foundation.

"So, You See, The People Really Elected Barry Goldwater."

Gable Is Gone

Clark Gable, who for 30 years was a household word in terms of pictorial entertainment and who occupied an unique role in the American society, is now a memory.

He was one of the giants of the movie world, a star in more than 90 pictures, all but one of which were box office successes. He must have been a great actor, but there was a similarity between the make-believe life he portrayed on the screen and the personal life he lived. It leads one to believe his popularity was only in part due to his histrionic ability. He had flair, dash, vitality, self-confidence, as well as an insouciant attitude toward conformity. He was admired by women for whom he idealized successful derring-do, and the exceptional man. And to men he was the sort of fellow they would like to have been had circumstances and courage permitted. Most people take refuge in conformity, but consider it a faceless condition. This much can be said of Gable. Though he achieved renown in the world of make-believe, he was not a make-believe fellow.

There are those who question drama. They ask, what substantial thing stands in the wake of an actor? He deals mainly in emotional experiences and when he has finished they are gone with the wind. But there is more to it than that. The good actor stirs his audience to a certain creativity. By his timely word and suggestion he causes his audience to create and participate in the play—a thing they would be unable to do without him. And he awakens in his audience certain aspirations which contribute to the shaping of the quality of social values.

Gable built no bridges, generalled no armies, occupied no ruling throne. But man does not live by bread alone. In his field he was a good provider.

Changes Are Needed

It is hoped that when Congress convenes in January, it will do something about three areas in which it has found room only to talk in recent years. One of these is the electoral college system which is a source of growing discontent among voters. The office of president of the United States no longer needs the protection it was afforded by this constitutional requirement.

With the two major political parties what they are today and the development of modern means of communication and transportation, it is virtually impossible for an incompetent person to be even nominated, much less elected president of the country. It is not a wholesome thing to have great blocs of votes practically thrown away because of a system which no longer serves the purpose for which it was intended.

Another needed change lies in the structure of the Congress and the laws by which it operates. Efforts will be made to change the rules on filibuster which permit a small minority of congressmen to completely throttle the desires of the majority. The filibuster is as outmoded a piece of procedure as there ever was and it should be stringently curbed if not completely eliminated. Debate is one thing when it contributes to understanding but quite another when used as a tactic for delay.

The other needed change is in the rules governing the work of committees. Far too often, congressional committees have been able to bottle up constructive legislation and never let it get to a vote of the full assembly. This is another way in which small minorities exercise power far beyond their rights. All three of these areas are in need of substantial revision. It is hoped that the welfare of the country will be put ahead of partisan political considerations when these subjects are advanced on the floor of the House and Senate.

Japan Stands Fast

The Japanese elections come as a shaft of warm sunlight to a United States which otherwise is finding increasing cloudiness over international affairs.

Japanese voters gave solid support to the conservative administration and in effect endorsed the U.S.-Japanese defense pact and kept Japan on the side of the West rather than moving it toward a position of neutralism. There was hardly a remote chance that Japan would swing decisively to the left, but a greater swing toward neutralism would have been a severe blow to the western position in the Orient.

The U.S. oriented administration suffered one disappointment. It asked for sufficient parliamentary strength to carry forward its long range purposes without fear of obstructing coalitions. While it increased its diet seats to 296 from 283 it did not gain the 312 seats it considered necessary for its purposes.

Despite an election that gave a little less than all, there is much in this latest expression of Japanese popular feeling to give satisfaction to the West. The greatest organized effort by communist forces was a prelude to the elections. It was manifested by the student rioting a few months ago against the U.S.-Japanese defense treaty. It was grave enough to warrant cancellation of President Eisenhower's planned visit to Tokyo. If the demonstrations had come from the depth of popular feeling certainly this recent election would have shown more evidence of it.

Having made their greatest effort to little avail the communists must accept a defeat in an area of high strategic importance and the United States has good evidence to believe that the period of crisis has passed.

Kennedy Quips On Keeping Benson

WASHINGTON—Not since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt has there been much real humor in the White House. In Truman's day humor was supplied by Gen. Harry Vaughan, but it was the raucous, ribald type not always repeatable. And in the Eisenhower regime there have been smiles, an unending succession of smiles, but not much humor. After Jan. 20 it may be different.

The morning after election, John F. Kennedy woke up to look over the election map of the United States, noted the Corn Belt, the Wheat Belt, the sugar-beet areas of the Rocky Mountains, and the great ranch areas of the Northwest all voting solidly against him.

"That makes one cabinet appointment easy," he said. "Ezra Taft Bensor as secretary of agriculture. The farmers seem to want him back, so they can have him."

It may be that the rootin'-tootin' smear campaign waged by an Oregon doctor against Congressman Charlie Porter, No. 1 congressional enemy of dictators, will turn out for the good of the nation.

Dr. Edwin Durno spent some $40,000 trying to make Porter the blood brother of Khrushchev, Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro, and succeeded in defeating him by a narrow margin.

However, the defeated Oregon Democrat is an idol in Latin America where he was among the first to stand up against Dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic when other congressmen were getting free rides to that country at Trujillo's expense or receiving medals from him. They defended him on the House floor against Porter's attacks. As a result, when Porter visited Venezuela shortly after Vice President Nixon was nearly killed by a mob there, Porter was given a tumultuous welcome.

As of today, what the United States needs most is an alert American ambassador to Venezuela, a country next on the list to follow Fidel Castro toward Communism. In Caracas, capital of Venezuela, communist strength is 8 to 1. As of now Venezuelan communists are not tied up with Moscow, but could be very quickly. The move to nationalize the great American oil companies of Venezuela is already under sub rosa discussion, and if it ever starts, technicians from Russia and Rumania would move in immediately to operate the American oil properties.

Castroism is slowly spreading through Latin America. But in Venezuela it is spreading at a gallop. The Kennedy administration will have to move quickly to stop it. And the appointment as our ambassador there of the man who battled against the dictators, Charlie Porter, would be one step toward doing it.

Executive Skill Still A Question

WASHINGTON — President-elect Kennedy wants to announce his entire cabinet in one full sweep. This is in theory excellent. It is neat, it is tidy and, in the general chorus of praise and blame across the country, the fate of any one individual could not dominate the news.

In practice the situation is somewhat different. Politics is a business of people, conducted by people who like to talk and who seek certain ends. It is not possible for Kennedy to isolate himself indefinitely from the often conflicting pressures on him and the spokesmen for them.

The test of his executive talents is clear and provocative because they are precisely those talents about which least is known. All his adult experience virtually has been in public life and as a legislator. Of course the same thing is true of Vice-President Nixon, but in his case it is for the present academic.

☆ ☆ ☆

The many foreign correspondents who covered the presidential campaign frequently expressed their wonder over the fact that both parties nominated untried administrators. It did not appear to bother American voters overmuch, though they can be expected to criticize freely the coming Kennedy decisions which will tell so much about the direction he plans to take.

It is said here that Kennedy's conversations with his running mate, Senator Johnson, did not develop anything concrete. It would be in character for Johnson, always fertile of ideas, to start planning the next administration the day after election. Kennedy is much more reflective.

The President-elect has another important conversation scheduled for this week at which plain talk is said to be the order of the day. It is with George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. Meany has been glowering over the spate of comment that Kennedy's mandate has been limited by the narrow margin of his popular support. The labor leader does not agree and he furthermore deposes that labor played a vital part in the Kennedy victory.

☆ ☆ ☆

Labor lost ground in the congressional elections, particularly in the House. It may do better in 1962, when the re-apportioned House is elected with gains in House seats for key industrial states and California.

Here is some evidence of trial balloons being floated from the Kennedy camp. One bearing U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson's name was pricked when Stevenson indicated he was not receptive. Another is making the rounds suggesting Adlai Stevenson, ambassador to Great Britain, which is achieving no great altitude.

A suggestion that Robert Kennedy be attorney-general is still floating in the air without much comment or criticism. Certainly he would like it. The use of both these men is a major Kennedy problem.

Patchwork Prairie Country

There is one squirrel that went into hibernation too early this winter, or perhaps it was an early winter nap it had in mind.

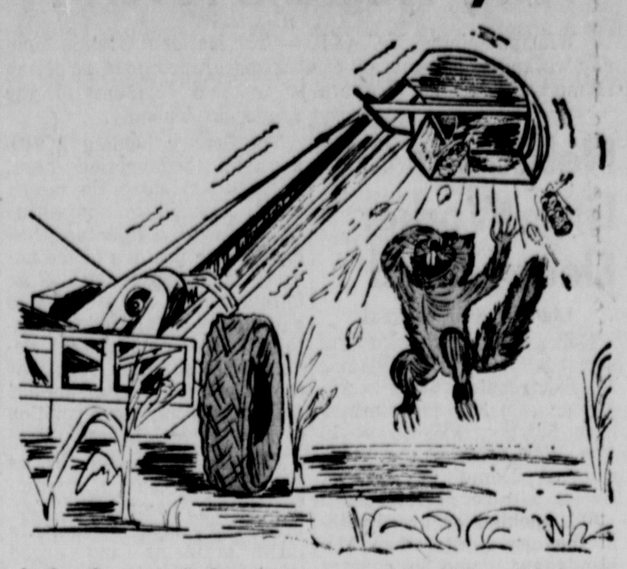

When The Farmer pulled the corn picker from the trees where it had been parked since last harvest, a squirrel had taken up its abode therein and refused to leave. The Farmer did not know the squirrel was inside until he started the machine. A nest of leaves, dried corn shucks and silks began to pour from the picker, followed by the squirrel. The squirrel was in a state of shock, followed by rigor mortis.

There must be a moral there some place. He who spends his idle days sleeping may wake up one day and find himself dead the next.

Our Thanksgiving turkey has also met his waterloo and now waits in the deep freeze for the holiday. Along about this time of year, I begin to think of big dinners and rich food. A good cookbook in the hand is worth two on the shelf. The temptation to try an utterly new recipe, elegant and expensive, prods the secret depths of my culinary ambition. This is soon followed by stark reality. A glance into the secret depths of my purse tells me to be more practical. So the recipe that called for water chestnuts came to nil, except to send me scurrying to the dictionary.

After I found out it was a water plant with floating leaves, small white flowers and nutlike fruit, I thought perhaps my digestive system could do as well without them. All the water plants with floating leaves I have seen at the big pond have had a frog perched gingerly atop.

Perhaps turkey, dressing, cranberries and pumpkin pie will be the best, after all. I can make those without a recipe book. So it's good-bye to the water chestnuts, bamboo shoots and wild rice.

The first small truckload of fat heifers went to market yesterday sort of on a "feeler" basis. If the market is what The Farmer anticipates, another truckload will be sent next week. Cattle feeding is like a game of chance. It's more fun to be on the winning side. Besides, if you lose too often, you are soon out of the game.

Now that the trees are bare, we can see again in all directions. During the summer when there is a heavy growth of leaves, we feel protected in the shady spread of their branches. The pin oak still has its summer cloak wrapped tightly around it, but it is always very late before the leaves fall.

We can see our neighbors' homes mottled around us. We can see across the fields now that most of the corn is picked, and we like the view.

After four months of snow and wind, we will be happy to see the leaf buds swell on the trees and once again welcome the shade and greenness of spring.

It's good to have a change of seasons. By the time you have grown tired of one, a brand new period is ready to take its place. Though I have seen seasons come and go, each one is different. There's the late spring, the early spring, the open winter, the dry fall, cool summer, mild winter, dry summer, and the snowbound winter of last year.

Just to keep the record straight, however, I really don't care for a repeat of last winter's snow. I like variety, but not quite so much of it. The depths of the snowbanks will not be measured by my wishful thinking. They never have been.

Family Farm

Avoca, Neb.

It is very fortunate for the family farm that the Kennedy administration will not have the co-operation of the American Farm Bureau. We can look forward to having a secretary of agriculture who will not be controlled by this organization.

Having traveled over 100,000 miles throughout the Midwest and contacted thousands of farmers, I feel I acquired a first-hand picture of the disastrous results of the Benson soil bank. Through this program, thousands of farmers have been forced off the land. Many landlords with large farms dispossess their tenants and put all the land in the soil bank, then use the large soil bank checks to buy up more land which puts more farmers off the land. As the farmers are being forced from the land, the small towns and schools are heading for a crisis.

Can the large cities absorb all these displaced people? The last chance for independence for many farm families has been taken away from them through this vicious program. How anyone can continue to endorse a program which has failed so miserably is beyond realization.

The farmers in this area are indeed very fortunate in having an editor like you to give us such unbiased and realistic editorials. It is unfortunate we don't have more editors with enough courage to speak their minds instead of conforming to some selfish interests.

Cases Requested

Lincoln, Neb.

In the editorial of Saturday, Oct. 22, entitled "The Fluoridation Drive," you have stated: "But the medical objections to the program are groundless. Leading medical authorities and groups throughout the nation have unqualifiedly endorsed fluoridation and testified to its complete safety. Beyond that, they have testified to its preventive properties in the field of tooth decay."

May I respectfully request documents sustaining the statement that "medical objections to the program are groundless." Also that "leading medical authorities and groups through the nation have unqualifiedly endorsed fluoridation and testified to its complete safety." That last statement is particularly of interest to me since I served four years on the Lincoln City-Lancaster County Board of Health. Also, I have been a member of the local, state and American Dental Association since graduation from the University of Nebraska.

May I request individual case histories to its preventive qualities mentioned? Have the voters been properly informed by reading this editorial so that they may cast an intelligent vote?

Legislative Pay

Blair, Neb.

I am wondering just how many Nebraska voters who voted in favor of an increase in the salary paid to our unicameral senators realized that this could and probably will mean an increase from around $800 per year to $2,400 per year, or $4,800 for the two-year term! I voted for the amendment knowing what it involved, but I can hardly see the necessity of a special session of our unicameral to institute the change.

If Republican Gov. Burney goes through with the call for such a special session, an increase in the take-home pay might well be considered for some of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture employes who are currently receiving less than $200 per month.

I wish to thank many of the readers of The Lincoln Star who complimented me verbally and by mail on the letters I wrote in the "Four Cents Worth" column, and also my fellow Democrat from Crete.

The one complaint that I did not receive was when I found some unwanted literature stuck under my office door while I was gone. I wish to inform the donor who engages in such un-American services and tactics that I am a true American who believes in freedom to worship as one pleases, and also that I am proud to be a Democrat.

A church is a house of God and not a place to preach politics from the pulpit. There is plenty of room on main street for that.

Attorneys Say Burney Had No 'Legal Cause'

Attorneys for Jack D. Obbink told the State Supreme Court Monday that Obbink was appointed State Aeronautics director for a term expiring next Jan. 5 and Gov. Dwight Burney had no "legal cause, basis or reason" to fire him.

Furthermore, the lawyers said in answer to a suit brought by Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck, the governor's allegation that Obbink made unauthorized use of a state aircraft was "improper and untrue."

Obbink made a flight to Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 24 with Robert Kennedy, brother of President-elect John Kennedy, aboard as a passenger.

Fired Oct. 17

Gov. Burney on Oct. 17 told Obbink he was fired for failing adequately to explain the nature of the state business that prompted the flight.

Obbink refused to give up the office and Beck went to the Supreme Court to obtain a restraining order to keep Obbink from trying to perform the duties. The high court Friday refused to dismiss the restraining order but has not yet ruled on the merits of the case.

Obbink's attorneys maintained in the answer delivered to the high court Monday by Joseph Ginsburg of Lincoln that the Kansas City trip "was made in an effort to further and promote the interests of the State of Nebraska in aviation development."

Obbink has at all times been "ready, willing and desirous of imparting to the said Gov. Dwight Burney privately or upon any formal inquiry held by the said Gov. Burney for said purposes the full and true objective of said trip and to disclose the direct and positive interests of the State of Nebraska in said trip," the answer said.

Instead, it added, Gov. Burney "has failed, neglected and refused to hold any hearing for the purpose of substantiating the said charges and accusation and has further refused to accept the veracity of respondent's (Obbink's) statements with reference thereto . . . "

The answer made these additional points:

Gov. Burney "has never instituted any proceeding, inquiry or investigation for the purpose of determining the existance of legal cause or grounds for removal . . . "

The governor and Beck have exposed Obbink "to the embarrassment, humiliation and stigma attendant to removal proceedings without according to respondent a hearing, investigation and substantiation of the charges against him which in fairness and in law should have been afforded to him . . . "

The Supreme Court case was designed to avoid any hearing.

Obbink's appointment was "duly, properly and regularly confirmed" by the Legislature and he fulfilled the duties of office until restrained by the Supreme Court Oct. 20.

Obbink "denies he has been guilty of incompetency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office."

The answer asks for a hearing and trial after which Obbink should be declared holder of the office.

BOMB SENT TO JOCKEY CLARK

Philadelphia (AP) — A cigar box apparently containing a home-made bomb was received Monday at the American Bandstand office of Dick Clark, nationally known television disc jockey.

It did not explode and was turned over to police in a hurry.

Clark was not in his office at the time, police said.

The box, wrapped in brown paper and postmarked from New York, was received by a girl secretary of Clark's who became suspicious when an end of the box fell out and she saw wires.

She showed it to a male secretary who summoned police. They asked an army ordnance team to pick it up.

Capt. J. K. McCloskey of the West Detective Division said the box contained a length of copper tubing, some wires and what appeared to be a blasting cap. Also in the package was a small clock, McCloskey said.

Housing Group Suggests Huge Building Project

Philadelphia (UPI) — The National Housing Conference announced Monday it has suggested to President-elect John F. Kennedy a multi-billion dollar urban-renewal program, calling for a $1 million appropriation in 1961.

The 12-point program was announced here by Philadelphia Redevelopment Authority Director William L. Rafsky, who helped in its preparation.

The program calls for the appointment of a cabinet-level administrator of urban affairs to handle all federal programs concerning municipalities. It also asked continuation of the federal public housing program under the 1949 housing act and expansion of other existing programs.

Funds For A Year-Round Alert Campaign Suggested

State Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln Monday suggested that the Legislature consider appropriating funds to the State Safety Patrol to establish a year-around public alert campaign.

The money would be used, Liebers suggested, to keep the public alerted to traffic safety and the activities of the patrol.

The retiring state senator offered his proposal at budget hearings before Gov. Dwight Burney.

Patrol Chief Col. C. J. Sanders agreed that "a well-informed public can assist us."

A reduction in insurance rates would "compensate for any additional appropriation," he noted.

Burney suggested the possibility of drawing legislation to "make it a crime for a driver to be driving more than 8 hours at a time."

Meanwhile, Sanders said the patrol is "still hopeful" that the state's traffic safety campaign may result in 60 less traffic fatalities than it experienced in 1959.

Recent multiple fatality accidents have dented the safety record, he said.

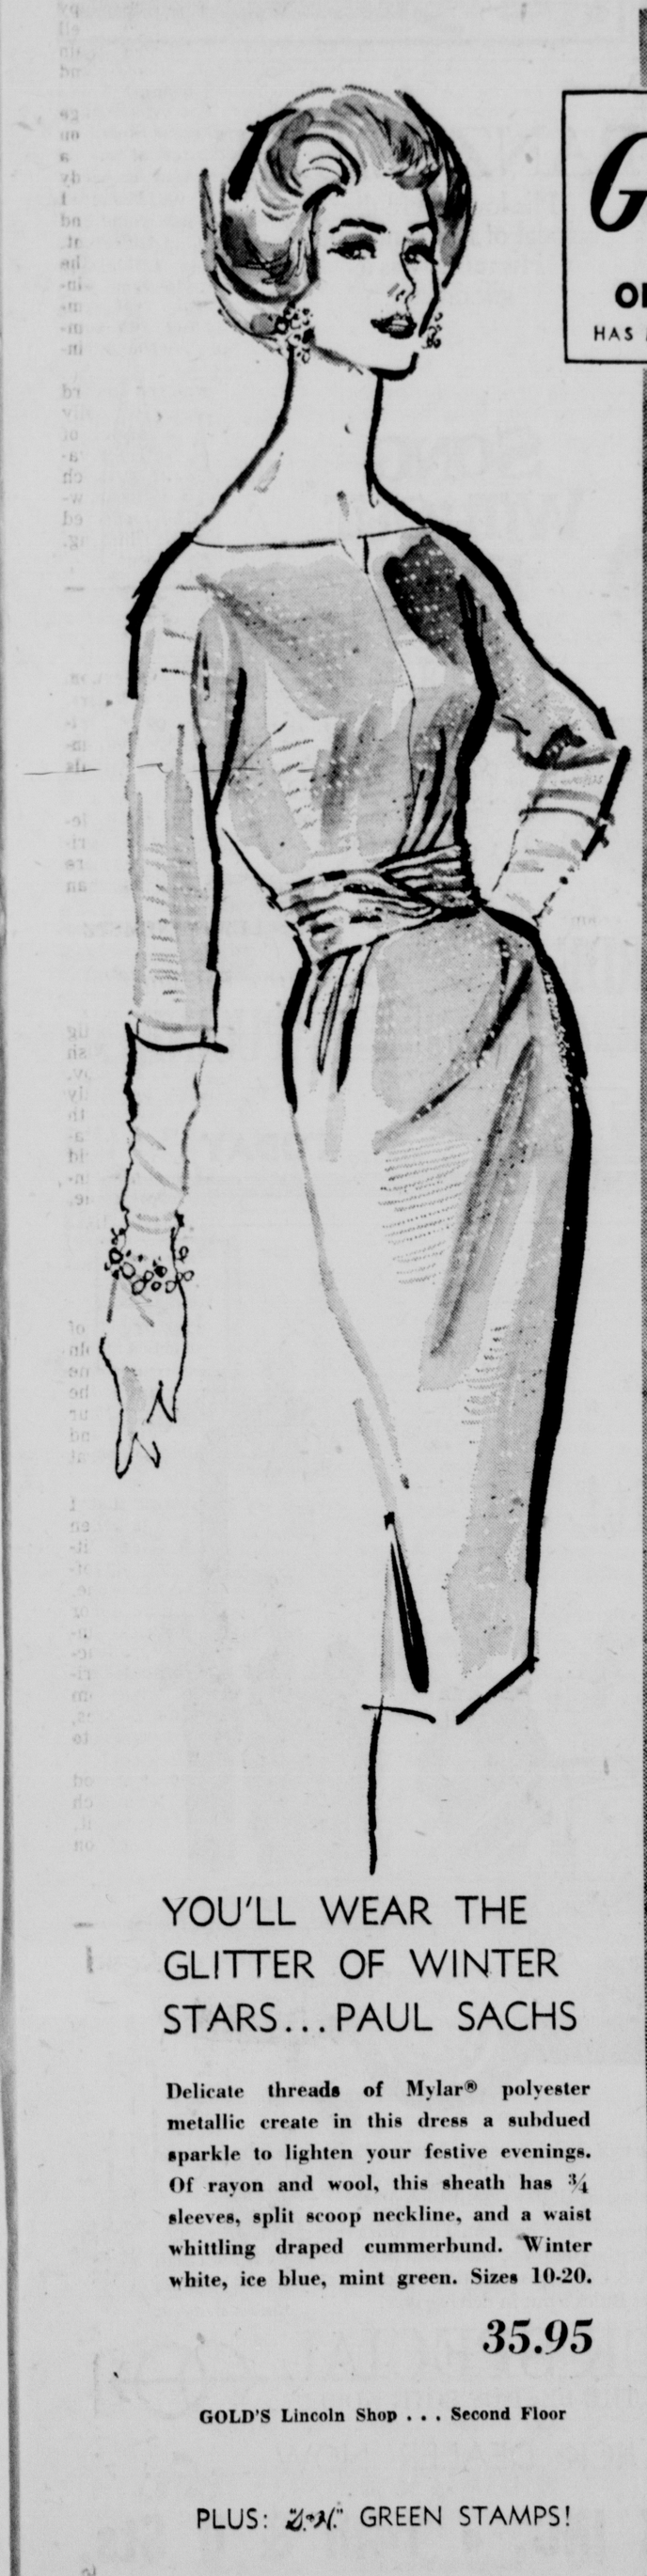

Continued good weather "brings everyone out on the road, causing heavy traffic," Sanders noted.

21 Die In Crash

45 MORE TROOPERS SAID NEEDED

By Don Walton

State Safety Patrol Chief Col. C. J. Sanders Monday requested the addition of 45 troopers during the 1961-63 biennium.

The Patrol now numbers 193 men.

Twenty-five troopers would be added to the force as of Oct. 1, 1961, according to the proposal contained in the patrol's budget request for the coming two years.

Twenty additional men — chiefly for use on the Interstate Highway — would join the force in October of 1962.

The new troopers could be added at an additional cost of some $564,071 for the biennium, Sanders said

The patrol's budget increase would total $741,756.

The 1959 Legislature increased the force by 25 troopers.

85 At Most

As of now, the largest number of troopers who can patrol the 100,000 miles of Nebraska highway at one time is about 85.

Meanwhile, Acting State Engineer John Hossack estimated that the state will receive $26.6 million in federal funds for the Interstate Highway during the coming biennium.

Total available federal aid for state highways was estimated at $70,929,316, a slight decrease from the current biennium.

The federal Interstate funds showed a slight increase from the $26 million available in 1959-61.

New Interstate funds may be placed under project agreement starting July 1, 1961, Hossack said.

Budget Hike

Total budget for the department will climb from $137,444,792 to $142,971,978, he told Gov. Dwight Burney.

Revenues from the state gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fees are expected to increase during the biennium.

However, maintenance costs and operations of truck weighing stations will also increase, Hossack said.

An estimated $110,072,636 in construction will take place during the two-year period, he noted.

The Safety Patrol budget calls for a 3% to 6% boost in salaries for troopers.

Patrolmen now work a 60-hour week. Starting pay is $375 monthly, with periodic raises beginning in 6 months.

The 24-year maximum salary reaches $560 monthly.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh also explained his budget, which envisions an increase chiefly due to salaries.

State Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln again represented Governor-elect Frank Morrison at the budget session.

Jury Verdict Reversed For Ex-Residents

. . . MAIL FRAUD

Omaha (AP) — Federal District Judge Richard Robinson Monday reversed a jury verdict and dismissed charges against two former Lincoln men accused of mail fraud.

Defense attorney John Sloma Friday moved the indictment be dismissed or that the defendants be given a directed verdict. The two are Ronald R. Darbo, 25, and James Norman, 24.

They were charged with misrepresenting in advertisements the conditions under which purchasers could obtain sewing machines.

Judge Robinson ordered the guilty verdict set aside and a judgment of acquittal entered on one of 3 counts. Since there was no judgment of acquittal on the other two counts the government "will have a right to appeal," he said.

Judge Robinson said the "court finds the government not only failed to prove its case beyond a shadow of a doubt but in the court's mind not even by a preponderance of evidence."

Norman and Darbo were accused of informing customers they would turn in finished garments each month as payments on the machines. After 3 months in business, the two left Lincoln in January, 1959, the prosecution said, and finance companies then pressed the sewing machine purchasers for payment.

Sloma argued there had been no intent to defraud. He said the men had purchased machinery and cloth for a garment-making operation and had a contract for the finished goods.

Prospects Good After Students Kick-Off Feed

The kick-off pancake feed for the Nebraska University student charity fund Sunday left "prospects looking good."

According to Dean Stuthman, All University Fund treasurer, the feed was attended by about 750, bringing in profits amounting to "a little less than $400."

"We can see no reason why we shouldn't meet our student goal of $4,800 this year," he added. "Response has been very encouraging."

Charities solicited for by AUF include the Nebraska Cancer Society, Orthopedic Hospital, LARC School, Tom Dooley's Medico drive and the World University Service.

TEXAS NIXES VOTE CHECK

Austin, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Monday night denied a Republican request for a statewide investigation of what the GOP called "frauds and irregularities" in the Nov. 8 presidential election in Txeas.

Wilson, however, did grant a test inquiry into the balloting of 34 precincts in Wichita County. A Republican spokesman called Wilson's action an effort to "sweep the matter under the rug and forget it."

The district court in Wichita County, Wilson said, could determine "whether this is the type and kind of fraud" that would authorize him to probe further.

Wilson said he wanted to make it clear that by his action "I am not saying this constitutes constructive fraud." During his conference with Republican attorneys, he indicated he did not think it was.

Omaha Asks Pact Extension On South Interceptor Sewer

The City of Omaha has requested a two-year extension of the contract deadline on the South Interceptor Sewer, T. A. Filipi, Nebraska State Sanitarian, said Monday.

Filipi told the State Board of Health that the state water pollution control council has agreed to an extension, but the final decision is up to the U.S. Public Health Service.

Filipi and members of the health board expressed recognition of the "wonderful cooperation" of Omaha officials and voters so far in the stream polution abatement program, and hoped an extension would be granted.

The request was made by George J. Fisher, Omaha's director of Public Works. He cited the $10.7 million bond issue just passed by Omaha voters for the sewage treatment plant in south Omaha, on the bank of the Missouri River, and said the city could not propose another $5 million bond issue for the south interceptor at this time because it follows the previous issue too closely and because of a debt restricting provision in the city charter.

On another Omaha matter, Fisher requested that $250,000 previously allotted in federal funds for the north interceptor—on the condition that the south interceptor and the plant would be under contract by Jan. 1—be kept in Omaha's name until the south interceptor gets under way.

The north interceptor is under construction.

Bids for the plant will be advertised the week of Dec. 4, and construction should start around April 1, Fisher said. The south interceptor project is still in the blueprint state.

On other subjects, Filipi said he will arrange a meeting of various state agencies on the problem of chemical weed and insect killers being washed into the streams, creating a possible hazard to public health.

To Discuss Storage

He will also arrange a meeting of agencies, in cooperation with State Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, to discuss whether state law should regulate the storage, collection and disposal of solid refuse and garbage.

Filipi said some towns are now dumping their refuse into streams, and in one county, Saunders, some residents are protesting the acquisition of a dumping ground by the City of Fremont, which is in another county.

The idea of collective sewage disposal plan should come under discussion with representatives of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, Filipi said.

At present, sanitary districts are not permitted by law to envelope municipalities. However, the cities of Scottsbluff, Gering and Terrytown have expressed the desire to have a collective plan. For this, the law would probably have to be changed, he said.

In other action, the Health Board:

Gave state approval to the Childrens Therapy Center of the C. Louis Meyer Memorial Center in Omaha, which was requested so the facility could qualify for surplus federal property as do state-licensed hospitals.

Accepted the final draft of a set of regulations and standards for homes for the aged and the infirm, to be effective July 1, 1961.

Accepted a $2,000 grant from the federal government for a streptococccus typing program.

STATE ORDERS KEARNEY BEER APPLICATION BACK

An application for a retail beer license at the Hill-Top Lanes bowling establishment at Kearney, approved earlier by the Kearney City Council, Monday was ordered returned to the city council on technical grounds.

Referral was ordered by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission on grounds that the application has been amended slightly — by a change in one officer of the applicant corporation — since the application was heard by the city council.

The Kearney council will have 15 days in which to (1) approve the amended application or (2) order a new hearing on the application.

At issue is an application by Triangle Corp., operator of the 16-lane bowling alley at Kearney's northern edge, for an on and off sale retail beer license.

Approved 5-0

The Kearney City Council approved the application 5-0. The application then went to the state commission, which ordered a hearing after protests were received.

Referral of the application back to the council was ordered during a 3-hour commission hearing Monday at which petitions purporting to carry the signatures of 3,436 legal voters of Kearney, protesting the beer license, were produced.

About 20 persons attended the hearing at which Richard A Dier of Kearney, attorney for the protestants, delivered the petitions and at which witnesses for and against the application were heard. The applicant was represented by Attorneys F. M. Parker of Kearney and Nate Holman of Lincoln.

R. F. Hollinger, Hill-Top Lanes manager, described for the commission physical changes contemplated at the establishment to provide full control over beer sales and drinkers. He said no beer would be sold while junior league bowling is in progress and said beer sales on Sunday are outlawed by city ordinance.

Kearney State Teachers College officials were among the opposition witnesses.

Carl Spelts, Kearney lumberman and member of the State Normal Board, reported that in 1956 when the area was rezoned to make establishment of the bowling place possible, owners gave assurance they had no intention of asking a liquor license for the place.

Community Developers Add $3,135

A total of $3,135 was reported collected toward a $30,000 goal by Modern Community Developers of Lincoln at its meeting Monday.

The group plans to incorporate after getting $5,000. Shares in the corporation are being sold for $100 each to obtain land and build unrestricted housing in Lincoln.

The corporation is an outgrowth of work by the Action Coordinating Team which is interested in obtaining housing for persons who are now being discriminated against.

The Rev. Everett Reynolds reported that the housing desk at the City Hall, where unrestricted houses and apartments are listed, has had a total of 32 listings of which 23 have been rented.

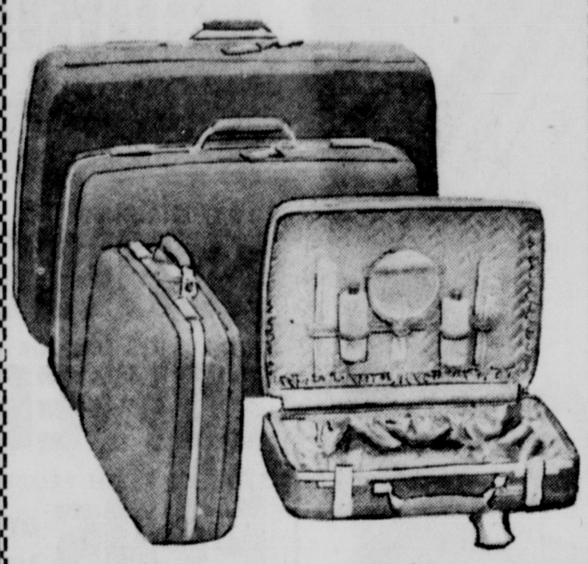

He also told of several recent incidents of housing discrimination, one involving an Air Force wife, Mrs. Mary Cole, who complained that she had never before had such a terrible time finding housing.

She told Rev. Reynolds that her present home, which is "considered one of the better in the Negro area," is so rat-infested that she has an exterminator out every week and has purchased a large dog to get rid of the rats.

COMMUNITY SAVINGS STAMPS WITH EVERY PURCHASE!

It was in the year 1929 when brokers were doing a Brodie out of the windows in Wall Street. Shoe-shine boys wept for paper fortunes swept away. And housewives with melting blue chips took to strong drink.

In that important year, Professor Walter B. Pitkin issued a stirring volume of hope: "Life Begins at 40."

I remember this occasion because I was NOT 40.

In fact, I had just signed off a coffee boat. Filled with the vital juices of ship's coffee and invigorating sea life. And I did not expect to EVER be 40.

I read this book with a detached air.

"Those poor old souls," I thought.

I truly pitied them. Hmmm.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dr. Nathan Mador of Staten Island, N.Y., has finished an eight-year study.

Ask me what he was studying for eight long years. Thank you.

He was studying whether men or women lie most about their ages.

This is a curious study. In a quick appraisal, it would seem to me the doctor was neglecting his work. Why wasn't he snatching out appendixes and tonsils?

Well, maybe it was a hobby. Anyway, he studied this important subject for eight years.

Finally he said: "Men lie more about their ages than women."

☆ ☆ ☆

He found some other interesting facts about these fibbers.

Both men and women lie about their ages more between 30 and 50.

Whether people are single or married makes no difference.

But widowers and widows and divorced people are inclined to stretch their ages most. Backwards, naturally.

One interesting point: Women have the most elastic ages.

A man may knock a couple of years off his age. But a woman, when she starts to go, subtracts like mad. Up to 10 years at a clip.

☆ ☆ ☆

Not all of us do this, I am happy to say. Personally, I never lie about my age. I avoid the subject.

This is quite simple and I don't mind telling you how to do it.

The lady sitting next to you at dinner gets in a reminiscent mood about her college days.

"It seems so far away. I was just 20 then. But the way, how old are YOU?"

The lady is fishing. She is giving you "my — we-are-all-getting-on-but-in-a-nice-way" things.

You say: "It couldn't have been that long ago. Why, I thought you were about 22 or 23 now. By the way, is that 'JeReviens' you are wearing? Delightful!"

The chick is so flustered she forgets what she asked you.

☆ ☆ ☆

In this way, you can avoid being one of the liars studied by the Staten Island doctor. (What is a doctor doing on Staten Island, anyway? That is a curious thing. I thought there were only people there who rode the ferryboat over to see the zoo.)

You can also question the lady a little. Let her enlarge on what they did the night they short-sheeted every bed in the sorority house. Let her go on and on. Evntually, she will say something like:

"I remember the dance that night so well. They were just beginning to do the Lindy."

"The Lindy? Did that come in THAT early? I thought it was 19 umpty ump."

The lady has been fibbing like mad about her own age.

While she is fluttering out of Trapsville, she forgets what she asked you.

You have made an enemy. Cutting her down with your little hatchet. But father, you have not told a lie.

Study Group Hits 'Super Secretary'

Washington (AP) — The proposal for a "first secretary" of the government, to act in the role of an American prime minister, was rejected Monday by a Senate group.

The turndown came from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and the staff of his senate subcommittee on national policy-making machinery.

The effect was to pour cold water on a plan which President Eisenhower has been expected to recommend.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who headed Eisenhower's advisory committee on government organization, advanced the idea of a super-secretary to exercise delegated presidential authority on all national security affairs "at the prime ministerial level."

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other witnesses before Jackson's committee endorsed the general idea earlier this year. Herter, however, said the secretary of state should be the official who should have "clear primacy" in policy decisions affecting security.

Sen. Jackson issued a report of the committee staff. It analyzed the first-secretary plan and said:

"Our governmental machinery has no place for a first secretary.

". . . the President of the United States . . . cannot be relieved of his burdens by supplying him with a 'deputy' to do what only he can do."

Jackson, now serving as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, issued a statement concurring. The senator added:

"Super-cabinet officers or above-the-department superstaffs would not ease the problems now faced by a President in setting and maintaining our national course.

"In fact, such additions to the policy process would make his burdens heavier."

Jackson in no way suggested that he spoke for anyone but himself. However, his position in the middle of Democratic policy councils makes it probable that his view coincides with that of president-elect John F. Kennedy. Sen. Kennedy sat in on some of the Jackson committee's hearings.

In criticizing the first secretary idea, the Jackson committee staff said the plan at first glance would appear to lighten the load on the president.

But closer analysis reveals "serious shortcomings and limitations" in the idea, the group said. The secretaries of state and defense, for instance, would continue to report directly to the President, it pointed out, and the placement of a first secretary between them and the President "would inevitably generate friction and resentment."

CONVICT QUITS ROAD MOB JOB

Winston-Salem, N.C. (AP)—A convict working with a road gang near here Monday told his guards, "I quit and I want my paycheck right now."

With that guards said, Willie Feamster, 27-year-old Negro strolled away. He was apprehended and taken to a hospital for a psychiatric examination.

Feamster is serving 5 to 7 years for breaking and entering.

Commendable Mr. Rosenthal Is Forgetful, Too

New York (AP)— When the traffic officer wrote out a ticket for attorney Murray Rosenthal he handed back the lawyer's driver's license but failed to give him the ticket. Rosenthal drove away.

Thirty minutes later Rosenthal discovered the error. He drove back, found the officer and picked up the missing slip.

In court, the magistrate praised the lawyer and dismissed the charge, saying, "You should be given a medal for civic virtue."

The grateful Rosenthal, who had pleaded innocent, left the court.

After walking 3 blocks, he discovered he had forgotten the driver's license he had presented when entering the plea. So he had to hoof it back to the court to retrieve it.

CACTUS JACK 'FILLS'

Uvalde, Tex. (UPI) — A master mixer of politics and poker, former vice-president John Nance "Cactus Jack" Garner, turns 92 Tuesday to fulfill a lifetime ambition.

"I want to be able to say I have spent half of my life in public life and half as a private citizen," he has often told visitors to his modest white wooden home 83 miles west of San Antonio.

Some of Garner's "lady friends" are baking a birthday cake and Mayor Melvin Rowland has declared Nov. 22 "Garner Day in Uvalde."

The mayor and city councilmen plan to visit the man who was vice-president from 1933 to 40 to thank him for "putting Uvalde on the map."

Garner, whose reputation as a poker player on Capitol Hill became almost folklore, was born in a mud-chinked log cabin in 1868, near the little town of Detroit in Red River County, Tex.

He first entered public life as a County Judge in 1895, winning an election despite protests from a neighboring ranchwoman that a man with Garner's reputation for poker playing was unfit for the bench. When the election was over, the woman, Miss Mariette Rheiner, met Garner for the first time and the two were married.

After serving in the Texas legislature, Garner went to the U.S. Congress in 1902 and became one of the most powerful figures in the House of Representatives. He was speaker from 1930 until being sworn in as vice-president under Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933.

The two men fell out over FDR's decision to run for a third term, and Garner retired from public life in 1940 to live in an imposing brick home built for his wife, Ettie.

A Mexican maid stays with him during the day, and Bill Evans, an 82-year-old Uvalde jeweler, keeps Garner company at night.

"I'm the only 90-year-old man with an 80-year-old babysitter," Garner often chuckles.

In 1950 only 30% of all homes that were built had 3 or more bedrooms. Today the figure is 80%. Makers of furniture and furnishings help sell their products by investing in newspaper advertising—over $9 million worth in 1959.

WELL, GRACIOUS ME

Why didn't I think of this? Mrs. Maurice Thayer of Minneapolis, Minn., uses her heat-proof glass coffee pot for mixing gelatin. Boil the water in the pot; add powdered gelatin and cold water as per package directions. After you've dissolved the powder, pour liquid into your salad-mold thru the handy spout.

LAST WORD

Combine 3 cups cranberry juice with 2¼ cups apple juice; chill overnight in your gas refrigerator. Serve a tangy first-course surprise to six delighted guests!

NOTES FOR A HOSTESS

Hope you've greeted this Thanksgiving with a new gas refrigerator. They're wonderful now! Meats stay country-fresh in a "jet-cold" chest, with sealed-in humidity. Another "jet-cold" shelf chills your salad and desserts faster! An amazing new kind of insulation allows thinner walls, so your refrigerator has more storage-space than ever. If you don't own a new gas model, why not start hinting now? Send Santa to your local gas company or gas appliance dealer.

PERSONALIZED PACKAGES

Cleverest lady on our block wraps every Christmas package in shiny white shelf-paper, ties it with narrow green ribbon, puts an imitation red rose in the bow. The effect—sensational!

Ever spent precious minutes hunting for a bib, after you've fixed Baby's supper? Ruthann Silcox of Minnesota puts a small towel-hanger on the back of the baby's high chair. She ties the bib-ends around it after every feeding; never has to search for the all-important cover-up.

MANY SPLENDORED GAS

Glass, steel, or soup...all are "cooked" with natural gas! Steel rails for railroads are hardened by gas-heat treatment. Window glass is rolled from molten liquid, made white-hot by gas. And this same miracle fuel simmers Dad's favorite homemade soup! Northern Natural Gas Company pipes this economical wonder-worker to your local gas company, City of Duluth, so you can simmer, bake, refrigerate, heat, and light with natural gas. Gas costs less, you know. Yet it does so much more!

RHUBARB CAKE

Here's a year-around delight that "keeps" beautifully, for unexpected holiday company. It's Rhubarb Cake, a la Mrs. Lew P. Reeve of Wisconsin. Mix well in this order: 1½ cups brown sugar, ½ cup butter, 1 egg, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tsp. soda, 1 tsp. vanilla, ½ tsp. salt and 1½ cups chopped rhubarb (frozen or fresh). Pour into greased 9 x 13 inch cake pan. Mix together ⅓ cup sugar and 1 tsp. cinnamon; sprinkle over cake before popping into 350-degree gas oven. A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE

What is a good cup of coffee?

We believe it is a great deal more than something hot to drink.

It is courage in the morning. Refreshment at noon.

Congeniality with friends along the afternoon's way.

And restoration when the day has ended.

It cheers the gloomy, wakes the sleepy and soothes the tired. It is drink for the body; food for the spirit too.

And when you brew Hills Bros. Coffee, you can be sure that all these goodnesses are there in overflowing measure. For 82 years, three generations of the Hills family have devoted their efforts to providing you with coffee that is delicious, deeply satisfying and always uniform in quality.

We are insistent on the same standard of quality in our instant product. We have purposefully made it to be the instant that is most like good, rich ground coffee in the cup.

When you lift a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee to your lips, you enjoy the alluring aroma, the dark golden-brown color, and the rich, deep satisfaction you associate with good coffee and all it means to you.

And that is true whether you buy your Hills Bros. Coffee in the instant or ground form. Because both are made by the same people, with the same care, and following the same aim:

To give you a good cup of coffee every time.

U.S. Seeking Help Of West Germans

By Loyal Gould

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The United States told West Germany Monday it needs immediate relief to dam the outflow of its dollar and gold reserves.

A 24-man delegation led by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon explained U.S. needs to a German team headed by Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, who is credited with enriching this nation through wise investment of nearly $5 billion in U.S. gifts. The atmosphere was reported friendly but subdued.

Details of the talks were not revealed. However, informants said Erhard and his team sought to make U.S. appeals for greater West German contributions to foreign aid the center of attention.

The U.S. negotiators were reported wanting to concentrate on proposals to get the Germans to share in the $700 million annual costs of maintaining U.S. troops in Germany.

Bonn has stated its unwillingness to contribute to these costs, contending it would be reminiscent of payments Germany made for the support of U.S. occupation troops from the end of World War II until 1957. It would prefer that any added contributions go to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Global aspects of U.S. foreign aid proposals will be discussed Tuesday and Wednesday.

Although Bonn has expressed a willingness to help Washington out of its balance said to be balking at a report of payments troubles, it reported request for an immediate outlay of nearly $1.5 billion for foreign aid and NATO defense needs.

Bonn wants to pour between $852 million and $909 million into underdeveloped nations over 4 years.

The United States has indicated a belief the West Germans are trying to operate an export-subsidiary rather than an aid program in planning to get back from underdeveloped nations between 20 and 25% of disbursed funds through the sale of German goods in 1961.

Stork Club Boss Hit In Crackdown

New York (AP)—Police added the name of Stork Club operator Sherman Billingsley Monday to their growing list of apparent violators of cabaret licensing laws.

The disclosure came shortly after the department slapped a 4-day suspension on the nightspot where Sophie Tucker belted out her songs without benefit of one of the police department's little $2 cards.

The suspension is effective Wednesday, the day comedian Joe Adams begins an engagement at the cabaret, Jack Silverman's International Theater Restaurant.

Police said that Billingsley was found without a card in his possession at the Stork Club just off 5th Avenue. They also said 3 waiters in the club did not have cards. A local law requires all night club personnel to have them.

Billingsley was asked to appear at a hearing at a still-indefinite date.

The 74-year-old Miss Tucker, who completed her engagement at Silverman's, has said she will not try to have her expired card renewed.

"Why should I?" she asked. "Honey, I went down town . . . in 1958 to have myself mugged and fingerprinted like a common criminal . . . I did that once but I'm getting old, too old to keep going down there every two years."

Under a ruling of 1941, all cabaret employes and performers must apply for the identity cards before being allowed to work, and can be denied them because of a criminal record. In effect, the $2 cards are licenses.

Inaugural Gown To Be From Jackies Sketches

Washington (AP)— Mrs. John F. Kennedy announced Monday that her inaugural gown will be made by Bergdorf Goodman of New York from her own suggestions and sketches.

The wife of the president-elect, who is known for her interest in art and her ability to sketch, said she has sent suggestions to Bergdorf Goodman on style, color and material of the dress. She also sent rough sketches of her own.

The New York specialty store will submit designs to Mrs. Kennedy in accordance with her sketches, it was reported by Mrs. Glady Uhl, Mrs. Kennedy's press spokesman.

So far, though, Mrs. Kennedy had not received any finished designs, though she expects to decide on the final model for her dress within a week or 10 days.

Mrs. Kennedy did not say what color, style or material she had in mind.

In New York, Andrew Goodman, president of Bergdorf Goodman declined to comment at all on the order from Mrs. Kennedy.

He did say, though, that his firm has done business with the Kennedy family "for many years."

There have been many inquiries to Mrs. Kennedy for information on the gown she will wear at the inaugural ball which will be the fashion highlight of the 3-day inaugural ceremonies.

More Authority To Highway Unit

. . . UNDER MORRISON

Governor-elect Frank Morrison Monday said he will give more executive authority to the State Highway Advisory Commission.

The 7-member commission presently serves the governor and the state engineer in an advisory capacity.

"From a practical standpoint," Morrison told The Star, "states with executive-type commisions have done a better job of road-building than we have."

Colorado is the only state bordering Nebraska which does not have an executive commission, the governor-elect said.

But, in that state, the governor "has given the Colorado commission executive authority by virtue of his own orders," he noted.

Won't Shirk Duties

In Nebraska, Morrison said, the governor has "certain responsibilities" in regard to highway matters.

"I do not intend to shirk those duties," he noted.

"But, I will see that the (highway) department functions as efficiently as possible."

Morrison said he endorses the sufficiency rating system presently used by the Department of Roads to determine highway needs and priorities.

As governor, he pointed out, he will not interfere in that area.

"It is not the proper function of the governor to determine where roads are to be built," Morrison declared.

Meets With McBride

The governor-elect conferred with Commission Chairman J. R. McBride of Minden Monday night concerning his views.

The Highway Commission was established by the Legislature in 1953. Its membership is balanced both geographically and politically.

On other matters, Morrison:

—requested that President-elect Kennedy send his choice for secretary of agriculture to Lincoln next month to participate in Morrison's proposed Bread Basket Governors Conference.

Already invited: former Lincolnite Ted Sorensen, special counsel to the President-elect.

Governor-elect John Anderson of Kansas has indicated he will attend the meeting, Morrison said.

—conferred with Dr. Emerson Jones, nuclear physicist for Consumers Public Power District, concerning his trip to the East seeking industrial expansion into Nebraska.

Dr. Jones and Morrison will meet with representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington Dec. 16.

Another city added to the December journey was Chicago.

—met with his campaign leaders for Omaha and Lincoln in their first conference since the election.

—conferred with Fred W. Lentz of Beatrice, a chief proponent of the state's industrial development program.

—met with a delegation from Cheyenne County concerning varied Panhandle problems.

Architect's Sketch Of Proposed Hospital

Big Hospital Drive On At Fairbury

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury — Boosters of the proposed Jefferson County Memorial Hospital kicked off a $390,000 fund drive by announcing that some 60% of that total has already been pledged in advance gifts.

Approximately 500 persons attending a promotional dinner, the first mass meeting on the project, heard details of the $600,000, 40-bed hospital.

Planning committee co-chairmen Morris Speir and E. C. Kruger headlined some 20 speakers plugging for the facility, scheduled for a 9-acre tract in north Fairbury. Architect John Helleberg Jr. of Kearney presented the first public sketch of the proposed building, as well as the floor plan of the one-story structure.

Kruger said 61 pledges have been received in special contributions, totaling $230,000. Added to the anticipated $240,000 in Hill-Burton federal funds, this leaves an estimated $160,000 to be collected in a general campaign running from Nov. 28 to Dec. 17.

The hospital itself is expected to cost $600,000, but $30,000 above this would be required for beginning capital and other expenses not supplemented by federal money.

Verne A. Pangborne, director of the State Health Dept. Division of Hospitals, said he believed an application by Fairbury for Hill-Burton money, if submitted, "would be first on the state list for available funds."

7-Year Plan

Although this was the first general public meeting on the proposal, Committee Secretary R. V. Denney explained it was actually "the culmination of planning started 7 years ago." It was pushed along recently, he said, "when the State Health Department determined that our hospital facilities are not adequate."

Some 18 home informational meetings have been held the past few days, and several dozen solicitors have been obtained.

Burton and Associates, hospital consultants and fund directors, plan to enlist some 500 workers for the 3-week, county-wide drive. Life memberships require at least a $100 donation, and $500 contributors will be designated sponsors.

The hospital would be operated by a non-profit corporation, headed by an unpaid board of directors. It would not be tax-supported, it was stated.

$50,000 Suit Filed After Accident

DeWayne C. Foust of 4200 O filed a $50,000 damage suit Monday in Lancaster District Court against Lauren Charon of 4100 Cornhusker.

Foust alleges he was injured Mar. 23 while riding as a passenger in a car driven by Charon when it was in collision with a truck on O between 35th and 36th.

3 Americans Die In Bolivian Crash

La Paz, Bolivia (AP) — Three Americans were killed in the crash of a twin-engine Beechcraft plane of the U.S. military mission after it caught fire in the air near the town of Viacha, about 5 miles from La Paz.

The dead were identified as Capt. Hugh Broiles, 34, chief of the geodetic survey in Bolivia; Capt. J. Duel, recently arrived from Panama, and Sgt. Joe Karson, 24. There were no further details on the crew.

Love's Just False Alarm

A Lincoln youth whom police said turned in false alarms which sent fire engines and an ambulance to the home of a girl who had refused him a date was fined $75 Monday in Municipal Court.

Gary L. Snyder, 21, of 880 No. 26th, pleaded guilty before Judge Richard O. Johnson to a charge of turning in a false fire alarm.

Police said he turned in the alarm at 1:20 a.m. Monday and fire engines rushed to the girl's home in the 400 block on So. 13th. Then about 2:06 a.m. he phoned an ambulance company and said an ambulance was urgently needed at the girl's home.

Police said Snyder told friends he turned in the false alarms because he was mad at the girl because she refused to go out with him.

A Holiday Week—And It's Brimming With News

—It's a holiday week, as everyone knows, so it stands to reason that we would have Thanksgiving news, which we do have. But on the other hand there also are brides-elect who are the incentives for considerable activity—So, we also have news of the brides.

Included in our Thanksgiving news are guests—and one of them is Miss Margo Hunt who planes in from New York City tomorrow to remain until Sunday as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hunt.

Then there is another guest whom we mentioned once before, but such a long time ago you may have forgotten—He is Richard De Brown who also arrives from New York City on Wednesday to spend the long week end as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. De Brown.

• • •

—But on the arrivals list for today is Mrs. Robert Mesmer of Palm Desert, Calif., who comes this morning for a two weeks visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Warren.

• • •

—Coming from out of town to spend the Thanksgiving holiday as the guests of Mrs. Velma Hodder will be Mrs. Hodder's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hodder and their chilren Donald, Richard and Michael of Denver; and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Hodder and her children, Kent and Laurie of Omaha. The family circle will be minus one member —William Hodder is attending Harvard University and his holiday is too short to permit a homecoming.

• • •

—We hear that Dr. and Mrs. James Mattoon are expecting guests for the Thanksgiving week end—Mrs. Mattoon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McKissick of Kirkwood, Mo.

We have an idea that to Mr. and Mrs. McKissick Thanksgiving is only incidental as far as their visit to Lincoln is concerned. The real objective of the trip is their new grandson who arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Mattoon on Nov. 18, at the age of seven weeks.

The baby, whose birthday is on Oct. 1, has been named Thomas Edward, and we wouldn't be at all surprised if his father has a career in chemistry planned for his young son, Dr. Mattoon, as you probably know, is assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Mattoon of Loveland, Colo., are the paternal grandparents.

• • •

—And, of course, there are going-awayers—Mrs. Edwin Foot for example. Mrs. Foot leaves today for Wilmington, Del., where she will be the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joyce and their family.

• • •

—To Omaha for Thanksgiving will go Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Neely and their son, Jack Neely, who will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Neely's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams and their son, David.

As a matter of fact there are to be two celebrations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams — Thanksgiving—and David's sixth birthday anniversary.

• • •

—The current week finds Miss Carolyn Schimmel, whose marriage to Dr. Bernard Magid takes place on Dec. 3, with few idle moments.

Today the bride-elect will be complimented by Mrs. Edward J. Walt who has invited guests for an 11:30 o'clock brunch at her home. Miss Schimmel will be presented with a hostess gift.

• • •

—Honoring the soon-to-be bride on Wednesday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. (Pat) Minier who will be dinner hosts and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Minier.

The guest list will include only members of the families.

• • •

—On Friday morning's calendar is the coffee for which Mrs. Galen Saylor, her daughter, Mrs. James McLean of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Bill Orwig will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Saylor. Twenty guests have been invited to the 10:30 o'clock party, and the bride-to-be will be presented with a linen shower.

Friday afternoon will find Miss Schimmel in Omaha where she will be the guest of honor at another party.

• • •

—Planned for Saturday evening is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sands and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simon will be hosts and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sands, when they pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss Schimmell and Dr. Magid.

Out of town guests will include Dr. Magid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Magid of Omaha, and Mrs. Sand's father, Edward Platt, and Mrs. Platt, of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Platt, by the way, will be arriving in Lincoln in time for Thanksgiving.

Fashion Show On Anniversary

When the members of the Lincoln Woman's Club met for luncheon Monday at the University Club, the group celebrated the organization's 66th anniversary.

A program highlight was presented by members of the junior division of the club who modeled their original hats which they learned to make this fall in their workshop sessions.

Proudly modeling their "chapeaux" are (seated, from the left) Mrs. D. R. Swanson, Mrs. M. B. Johnson, Mrs. Sam Darrough and Mrs. Gordon McKinney and (standing) Mrs. J. J. Farrell (instructor), Mrs. Floyd Snyder, Mrs. Fred Johnston, Mrs. D. W. Frischmann and Mrs. Gilbert Hanson.

Bride-Elect Honored At Party

Miss Angie Holbert, whose marriage to Harold Johnson will be solemnized on Dec. 17, was complimented on Sunday afternoon when Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Earl W. Johnson, was a tea hostess at her home between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock. The guest list included friends of the hostess.

Presiding at the tea table is Mrs. Wendell Sipp.

Dear Abby—

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If a girl has had quite a lot of experience with kissing and a fellow goes to kiss her, is she better off pretending she doesn't know what it's all about? Or should she just use what she knows and let him think the worst? Please answer before Saturday night.

"LITTLE ACTRESS"

DEAR "ACTRESS": Do what comes naturally — but don't put on your best performance. (What will you do for an encore?)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: On the first of September my husband's brother's son came to stay with us. He is attending college near by. His parents said they would pay us for his keep. So far all they sent was ten dollars for the first month and five dollars for the second.

Tell me, do you think this is enough for the boy's room, board and laundry? I've asked my husband to write to his brother but he doesn't want to appear money-hungry. Would it look bad for me to write?

The boy is 18 and, bless his heart, he eats like a lumberjack. By the way, they have more money than we have.

UNDERPAID

DEAR UNDERPAID: You should have had a clear-cut financial arrangement with the boy's parents beforehand. Fifteen dollars for two months hardly covers the milk bill for an 18-year-old boy. If you don't write, you're wrong.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My son, who is 19, is in the service and is stationed at a nearby camp. He and a 15-year-old girl who lives in our home town claim to be married. The girl says she doesn't want her parents to know it as they think she's too young. Every week end my son comes home and the two of them spend the week end here in this house like a married couple. I ask them to show me their marriage license and they say one of their friends has it. I'm a widow and don't know how to handle this alone.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: DO NOT allow your son and this girl to weekend together until they provide proof of their marriage. Married or not, your son needs supervision and so does the girl. Meet her parents immediately and find out what the situation is or be prepared for trouble later.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead—four of spades.

The declarer should always start the play of a hand by forming a tentative plan of what he intends to do. In making this plan, he usually commences by counting his winners if he is playing a no-trump contract, and counting his losers if he is in a suit contract.

Thus, in this hand, a spade having been led, South can see seven immediate winners — two spades, two hearts, and three clubs. Since his goal is to make nine tricks, declarer gives thought to how he can obtain two additional tricks.

He notes that he can surely gain a diamond trick simply by leading towards the K-Q, and at the same time observes that two diamond tricks are certain if it turns out West was dealt the ace.

South also notes that an additional club trick is possible if the suit is divided 3-3, or if the singleton or doubleton jack was dealt either opponent, or if he chooses to finesse against the jack.

There being no hurry about testing the clubs, South wins the spade lead with the ace and plays a diamond to the queen. East takes the ace and returns a spade. Declarer plays the eight for two reasons — he wants to exhaust East of spades and he is curious to know how many spades West started with.

West wins the spade and returns another one, taken with the queen as East discards a heart. South leads a diamond to the king, hoping the jack will fall in the process, but East shows out, discarding another heart.

Declarer has only one hope left now—to win four club tricks. Before tackling the suit, he cashes the A-K of hearts. When both defenders follow suit, everything is under control.

West has shown up with five spades, four diamonds, and two hearts. He therefore cannot have more than two clubs.

Accordingly, South leads the ten of clubs to the ace, a low club to the king, and a low club from dummy. When East plays the eight South finesses the nine with absolute assurance that the finesse nesse the nine with absolute will win.

Stopover In Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Albrecht of Lincoln paused in Honolulu as the first stop on a six-weeks cruise to the Orient which includes the Philippines, Japan, Hong Kong and ports oriental. Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht, who will return home shortly before Christmas were photographed on the SS President Hoover on its arrival in Honolulu.

Morning Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Maryanne Louise Comeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Leo Comeau of Lynn, Mass., and Daniel Eldon Crawford, son of Mrs. Phyllis Crawford of Lincoln, and Eldon E. Crawford, San Mateo, Calif, took place on Saturday morning, Nov. 19, at St. Pius V Church in Lynn. Bouquets of white gladioli, pink and blue-tinted pompons decorated the altar for the 10 o'clock ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor.

Miss Janice Marie D'Angelo, as the maid of honor, and Miss Louise Marie Comeau, the bridesmaid, both of Lynn, appeared in frocks of blue velveteen and taffeta with matching crowns, and carried cascades of white and pink roses and pompons interspersed with blue feathers.

Serving as best man was Michael Allen Crawford of Lincoln, and the ushers were Thomas Arber of Springfield, Ohio, and Phillip Ward Beasley.

White Chantilly lace over satin fashioned the bride's period gown. Delicate scallops of the lace edged the high neckline of the basque, which was designed with bracelet-length sleeves, and the bouffant skirt was draped into a pouf bustle and extended into a long train. A crown of pearlized blossoms held her illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of Easter lilies and ivy.

The couple will reside at Vallejo, Calif., following a wedding trip to Quebec, Canada. Mr. Crawford is a former student at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Kappa Sigma.

New Neighbors In Suburban News

EASTRIDGE

A look in our birthday book tells us that Debby Whitehill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Clark Whitehill, celebrated her fifth birthday anniversary on Thursday. However, the party was delayed until Saturday when Debby entertained a group of her contemporaries at an afternoon of fun at her home.

Joining Debby for the festivities were Rene Grubbs, John DeLair, Linda Hagerman, Julie Burroughs, Joel Wieng, Joey and Jimmy Grantski, her cousin Patricia Murphy of Omaha, and of course, her brother, Scott.

Arriving at the Whitehill home Thursday was Debby's grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Whitehill. Mrs. Whitehill will spend some time in Lincoln before returning to her home in Vallejo, Calif.

And one more mention of the Whitehill family—they plan to be in Omaha for Thanksgiving Day at the home of Patricia and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Murphy.

And with Thanksgiving only two days away there are more plans in the offing for the observance of the holiday.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Loerch and their daughters, Karla, Leah, and Cameron, will be going to Columbus to spend the holiday. The Loerches will attend a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green.

Leaving tomorrow for Waterloo, Ia., are Mr. and Mrs. William W. Smiley. They will spend the long holiday week end at the home of Mrs. Smiley's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wielage.

Motoring to Des Moines tomorrow evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Finke and their three children, Susan, Wain, and Richard. They will spend Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Wainscott, and their family.

More Thanksgiving plans of suburbia residents—motoring to Aurora Thursday will be Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Maddox and their children, Lori and Tommy. They will be the guests of Mrs. Maddox' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Olsom.

Journeying to Wausa the day after tomorrow will be Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dotson and their children, Larry, Karen, and Randy. They will spend the holiday with Mrs. Dotson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Enquist.

Arriving Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Spencer and their daughters, Deanna and Dedrie, who will be staying in Lincoln for two weeks at the home of Mrs. Spencer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Gatto. The Spencer family resides in Rapid City, S.D.

Fun Hayrack Party

A group of teen-agers had a wonderful time last Saturday evening when Miss Mary Alice Spomer and Miss Charlene Hametz were hostesses to eighteen guests.

The high spot of the evening was the hayrack ride, and in the picture we find all aboard but the two hostesses, Miss Spomer (left) and Miss Hametz.

About to lend a helping hand is Mike Pueppke while Jim Knudtson looks on.

Age Was Not A Drawback

Mrs. C. H. Sharrick returned home Sunday evening from a seven-week trip by car on which she accompanied her mother, Mrs. Janie Jones, and sister-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Jones, of Kansas City.

The elder Mrs. Jones, who is 91, attended the Golden Wedding anniversary of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hall, at Alameda, Calif., and during the 7,000-mile trip visited all of her 19 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren with the exception of three who reside in the midwest.

Highlights of the trip included a stop at Las Vegas, Nev., where Mrs. Jones, at her ringside table, almost stole the show from the Parisian entertainers, won an $8.00 jackpot, and tried her luck at Roulette. The trip also included a speedboat ride at Marble Falls, Tex., and dining out in the French Quarter of New Orleans.

Mrs Jones also visited her 94 year-old cousin in Port Arthur, Tex., and en route home stopped at Ferris, Tex., where she resided 63 years ago, and at Walters, Okla., her former home 50 years ago.

Anniversary

Mrs. and Mrs. Russell Rauch will observe their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house at their home, 1830 E. Manor Dr., on Sunday, Nov. 27.

Their friends and relatives are asked to call between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock without further invitation.

Labor Unions Press For A Man In New Cabinet

Washington (AP)—Labor union leaders are pressing President-elect John F. Kennedy to put a union man in the Cabinet.

They feel the time has come for unions again to have representation at the top government level. This, they suggest, could be accomplished by putting one of their number in as secretary of labor or in some other Cabinet post.

What the unions chiefs really want—and feel they deserve on the basis of organized labor support for the Democrats not only in 1960 but in prior campaigns—is a major voice in the new administration.

President-elect Kennedy is to confer here Wednesday with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and possibly other federation leaders.

The conference was announced as a discussion of unemployment problems. But more likely it will be a session to work out an understanding of the whole relationship between Kennedy and organized labor during his administration.

During President Eisenhower's 8 years organized labor felt it was frozen out, that business was calling all the shots and that labor's views never had a chance to be considered.

They want to make sure that labor recommendations, on foreign as well as domestic matters, are weighed along with recommendations from other sectors of American life. The labor chiefs feel they have something to offer on almost all the nation's problems.

It is argued by even some labor leaders that there is too much potential conflict in the Labor Department post for a union man to fill it. How, they ask, can union man be loyal both to the administration to his fellow unionists?

This area of possible conflict of interest is even wider now that the Labor Department is responsible for enforcing the rigid union controls enacted as part of the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The late Martin Durkin, president of the plumbers union, became Eisenhower's first secretary of labor only to quit in less than a year after he and the President had a serious policy disagreement.

Many agreed with the late Sen. Robert A. Taft that Eisenhower's appointment of Durkin to the labor Cabinet post was "incredible." Yet, Durkin was the fourth union man to serve in the post. From 1913 to 1933 union men William B. Wilson, James J. Davis and William N. Doak held down the job.

U.S. Aide In Cubals Out Of Danger

Havana (UPI) — A U.S. Embassy aide, shot and wounded by a Cuban army officer in a dispute over an American $5 bill, was reported out of danger following surgery at the police hospital.

Wayne E. Henderson, 24, of Pasadena, Calif., was shot in the stomach at point-blank range by Capt. Jorge Robreno Marieguez, of the Cuban army intelligence staff.

Cuban and American versions of the shooting differed. However, in Washington the State Department said a full investigation is under way by the embassy in Havana.

Henderson was reported able to take liquids and police hospital surgeons said his condition is "very satisfactory."

Morrison 'Will Let No One' Speak For Governor's Office

Governor-elect Frank Morrison Monday told newsmen he will authorize no one to speak for the governor's office other than himself during his term of office.

The newly-elected Democratic governor made the statement at a press conference, explaining his views on press relations.

In other action, Morrison said he will propose a bill to the 1961 Legislature to offer a constitutional amendment which would elect the governor and lieutenant governor as a team.

Such action, he suggested, would remove partisan differences between the state's two highest officials, and "upgrade the office of lieutenant governor."

Morrison said he also expects to offer recommendations on governmental reorganization to the Legislature. He did not elaborate.

Meanwhile, the governor-elect said he hopes to attend the Interstate Oil Compact meeting in Phoenix Dec. 4-7, and the National Wheat Growers Assn. convention in Oklahoma Dec. 5-6.

He may appoint a special advisory consultant to aid him in respect to Omaha Interstate Highway matters, Morrison said.

Reviewing the election, the governor-elect suggested that "our majority would have been much greater if it had not been a presidential election year when voters tend to freeze to party lines."

AF Recovers Drag Balloon

Washington (AP) — The Air Force launched a 500-pound space capsule to an altitude of 32 miles Monday and brought it safely back with the aid of a drag balloon and a parachute.

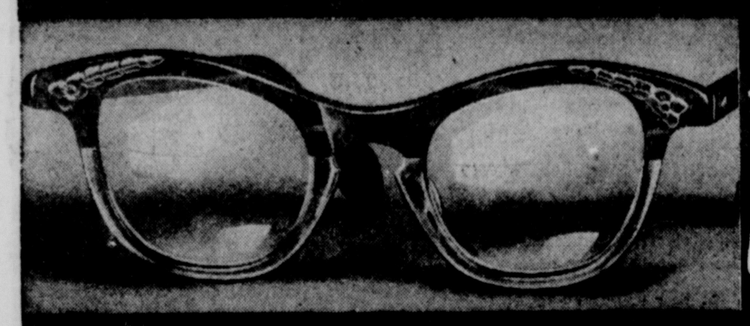

The launching, from Santa Rosa Island, Fla., was the second successful test of a new high altitude device for the recovery of missile nose cones or of escape capsules and space vehicles returning from orbit.

The new system, dubbed Ballute, was developed by Goodyear Aircraft Corp. for the air research and development command.

The heavy capsule was launched by a three-stage missile consisting of two Nike booster rockets with a Cree rocket as the third stage.

Dust To Go Before Recreation Area Roads Come

By Virgil Falloon

The State Highway Advisory Commission adopted Monday a policy of deferring any action on recreational roads until a larger portion of gravel roads in the highway system are converted to dustless surface roads.

However, the policy statement added that the state would build recreational roads if funds from other sources than normal state highway funds were made available.

The commission policy was adopted after Commission Chairman J. R. McBride said that Nebraskans were entitled to an answer concerning the group's policy on recreational roads.

Game Commission Director M. O. Steen had presented the commission at its October meeting a list of some 146 miles of recreational roads he would like added to the state system.

No Action Taken

At that time, the commission took no action but did authorize an engineering study of an access road to the Gavins Point dam area.

After adoption of the commission policy, Chairman McBride suggested, there could be a number of groups who might make funds available for recreational road development.

Acting Engineer John Hossack agreed with the commission that preferential treatment of one recreational road over another would open the door to pressure of people favoring one recreational road over another.

In other action, the commission received a communication from Lincoln Mayor Pat Boyles requesting priority consideration during the 1961-63 biennium for the widening of Cornhusker Highway (U.S. 6) between 14th and 56th.

The mayor said widening to 4 lanes of this 4.3-mile stretch was urgently needed, pointing out it carries 17,470 cars daily or an increase of 265% since 1950.

Growing Business

The highway segment was described as a growing business area, essential as a motel and service area for the Interstate Highway, and high-volume traffic route to many Lincoln points.

Hossack agreed that the Cornhusker segment "is the most overloaded road in the state" and it won't be relieved by the Interstate.

Delegations from Genoa and Silver Creek asked for a priority for hardsurfacing of 14 miles on State Hwy. 39.

The state already had hardsurfaced 7 miles of road south of Genoa. The remaining 14 miles runs past Silver Creek into State 92.

Stanley Torpin, delegation spokesman, said the Silver Creek group favored the 10-mile segment south from Silver Creek because most of the town's business came from the South and this portion "is in the worse shape."

Maybe 3 Projects

Acting Engineer Hossack said there was a possibility of 3 projects: completion of the 4-mile portion north of Silver Creek; hardsurface of 7-mile segment south of Silver Creek to the bluffs area or the remaining 3-mile segment north from State 92.

The commission said it would hold a public hearing soon as possible on the relocation of State 39 west of Silver Creek. The relocation is being studied to eliminate a traffic hazard at the intersection of State 39 with U.S. 30.

Also heard was the request of the Highway 183 Association for hardsurfacing of 31 miles of U.S. 183 between Taylor and Rose.

Ted Cole, association secretary from Taylor, said the Taylor to Rose segment should be declared an emergency and the Elm Creek to Miller stretch given a high priority.

He said the association would leave it up to the commission as to which section should be done first.

"Nebraska," he said, "has the only portion (91 miles) of Hwy. 183 that is not hardsurfaced between the Gulf of Mexico and the Canadian border."

Reckless Driving, Speeding Proves Costly For Youth

Gary E. Null of 1016 No. 66th was found guilty of reckless driving and speeding charges Monday in Municipal Court in connection with an incident Oct. 31 in which a police officer was nearly struck by a car.

Null, 18, was fined $50 and had his driver's license suspended 60 days on the reckless driving charge and was fined $16 on the speeding charge. Null had pleaded innocent to both charges but was found guilty by Judge Richard O. Johnson.

Police said Null was the driver of a car which narrowly missed Police Officer Clifton Koch when Koch attempted to flag the car down near 48th and Lexington after it had gone through a radar check. Koch gave chase in a police cruiser but was unable to overtake the speeding car. Null was arrested the next day.

AMERICA'S LOWEST-PRICED 6-PASSENGER CAR!

Sometimes I amaze myself!

FALCON TUDOR SEDAN, with standard trim, is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car.* Car shown has deluxe trim and whitewall tires, optional at extra cost.

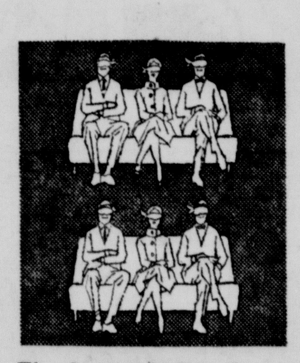

Even more amazing, Falcon is priced as much as $505† less than the new-name compacts recently introduced. But maybe you think more money means more compact car? No! Fact is, Falcon gives you more—much more—of what you buy a compact for.

You see, these new high-priced compacts are just too big and heavy to handle and park as easily as Falcon. That's why they make extra-cost power brakes and steering available. With all their excess bulk, how would they go up to 30 miles on a gallon like Falcon? And although they're bigger outside . . . where you don't want it . . . they have about the same room as Falcon inside. Falcon takes 6 people in the same comfort and luxury as the highest-priced compacts.

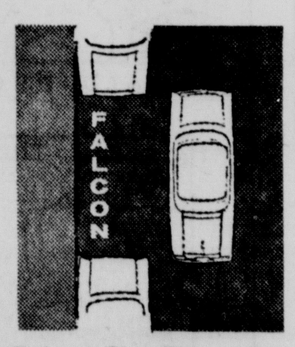

Pay more? What for! Only Falcon has that winning combination of compact features. That's precisely why Falcon is America's best-selling compact car . . . over 500,000 richer owners already!

FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

*Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices
†Based on similar comparison of deluxe 4-door sedans equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission

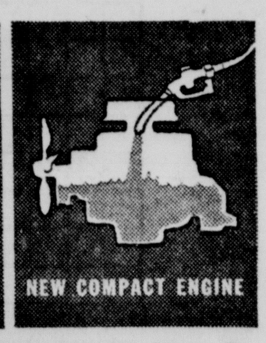

The Seating's The Same. Falcon or new high-priced compact, inside they measure about the same. Only difference is the price of admission.

Falcon Fits Where The Others Have Fits. It's around the block 5 more times for the new-name compacts. They're too big to take a Falcon's spot.

More Weight Means Bigger Engines—Bigger Engines Need More Gas. The new-name compacts are too heavy to go up to 30 miles on a gallon like Falcon. Only Falcon has all the economies you buy a compact for.

Stuhldreher Finally Winner in Lincoln

. . . FEATURES UNIVERSITY CLUB GRID FETE

By Don Bryant

Harry Stuhldreher was humorous, reminiscent, serious, inspirational—and he wowed 'em.

That was the story of Monday night's annual University Club Gridiron Stag honoring members of the Nebraska football team.

"Every time I come to Lincoln—Nebraska wins," he cracked at the start, referring to the Huskers' win over Oklahoma last weekend and the two Nebraska wins over Notre Dame while he was a member of the famed Four Horsemen backfield.

But, judging from the reaction to his talk, Stuhldreher finally chalked up a victory in Lincoln.

Thanks Lincoln

"I owe my entire career to Lincoln," he said. "We were playing Nebraska in 1922 and Dave Noble—who was as big as the entire right side of our line—broke through the line.

"I was the last man between him and the goal line and I said to myself—'Dave, if you're good enough to get away from 10 other Notre Dame players, go ahead and score.

"He did—and I lived. All because of that decision—coaching, U.S. Steel, playing—I have had a good life. It was the turning point of my career."

The former Wisconsin coach also scorched "Monday morning quarterbacks and second guessers," praised the Huskers—new and old—and urged the players to utilize the lessons of football in later life.

Some of Stuhldreher's observations:

"—We chose Ed Weir, after 3 years of varsity competition, as our (Notre Dame) outstanding opponent. Ed was a revolutionary.

"In our day linemen were planted and they never varied one inch. But Ed was the first to play a mobile defense.

"—Don't feel sorry for the coaches. They know they'll be criticized (99% of the time unfairly, of course) and if they're not big enough to take it, they should get out.

Lay Off Players

"But it is absolutely wrong to take the criticism away from the coaches and apply it to the players. They're young fellows and deserve a lot of credit.

"—Nebraska was the only team to beat us (Irish) in 3 years, and I couldn't pay a higher tribute to the Cornhuskers. I hope football resumes between Nebraska and Notre Dame.

"Ask any Notre Dame fellow who ever played against Nebraska and you'll hear nothing but the highest praise for the series.

"—You wonder why you played well at times and why you didn't do as well all the time—we all wonder about these things.

Be Stout-Hearted

"But you've had wonderful experiences and when adversity comes again, these experiences will help you over the obstacles. You've got to be stout-hearted in anything you do.

"—Anyone who says you don't learn anything from competition has another think coming.

"When you can't keep an individual, or a group of people, down, you have got something. You fellows carried that out against Oklahoma."

Husker football coach Bill Jennings told the group the 1960 season is "difficult to evaluate" and apologized to the players for "giving up on them.

Proud At OU

"I'm real proud of the way the team played at Oklahoma—and they were almost out of it. But they were tough in the face of adversity.

"I'd like to pay tribute to the seniors who helped play the greatest 30 minutes I've ever seen in football.

"I thought we were almost out of it, but these young men didn't. I hope I never lose faith in them again—they taught me a great lesson."

Athletic Director Bill Orwig, who introduced members of the NU staff and Stuhldreher, said, "I would be remiss if I did not compliment the boys and the coaches for their play this past season—thank you for keeping the old Nebraska spirit going."

NU Grateful

Chancellor Clifford Hardin told the Huskers: "We are grateful for 4 years of tremendous effort and we hope you feel your football experience has been a full supplement to your overall college experience. "Keep putting forth the effort you have, and you can look forward to many good days. We're proud of you."

Husker seniors receiving watches were Ron McDole, Pat Fischer, Don Fricke, John Ponseigo, Dick Kosier, John Bond, Darrell Cooper, Clay White, Bob Kitchen, Al Wellman and manager Lou Titus.

Emmett Junge, president of the University Club served as toastmaster and introduced Regents C. E. Swanson of Lincoln and Dr. Ben Greenberg of York.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

The Aftermath

With the 1960 Nebraska football season in the record book, all hands can now join in a hearty round of hindsight and second-guessing . . . Coach Bill Jennings Monday joined the act by labeling the campaign: "'Frustrating." It certainly was that as the Cornhuskers at times played like Tigers and at other times purred like kittens . . . Those of us who saw every game agree on one point: If the Huskers would have played against Iowa State, Colorado and Oklahoma State the same way they played the second half against the Sooners, the above mentioned trio would have been blown out of the park and a 7-3 mark would have been achieved . . . Few of us will forget that comeback against the Sooners, even considering that OU ain't what she used to be. The Huskers went after the Sooners as if their life depended on it. They dared the Sooners to fight back and beat them at their own game . . . During the 4th quarter march to field goal position, the Huskers roared out of the huddle, lined up and growled at the Sooners across the line: 'Get ready, boys, here we come again!" That's an old OU trick that used to demoralize all comers. . . Why were the Huskers so successful in that final half? One big reason was their ability to make the key play. On 4 occasions they had 3rd down situations with from 2 to 5 yards needed for a first down—they made 36 yards for a 9.0 average . . . In my memory book, Nebraska's second-half comeback is tops since the 1940 team spotted Iowa State 12-0 before taking a 21-12 win to land the Rose Bowl plum.

Platoons Best

Why were the Huskers "up and down," lending credence to the "frustrating" tag? No doubt there were many reasons, ranging from coaching, lack of inspiration, injuries and miscalculations to complacency at times. Contributing heavily, I think, was the decision after the Minnesota game to go overboard on wild-card substitution, rather than sticking to alternate units . . . Certainly the loss of Noel Martin early in the season cost NU the double-barrelled fullback attack that paid off so handsomely against OU . . . Pat Fischer's shift to quarterback put him in a new post, and he simply didn't have the experience or the passing flair to become a miracle man. But Pat gave it a great try—and blossomed against OU—and was one of the finest backs, offensively and defensively, in the Big 8 . . . Credit the installation of the T Double Wing with putting some life in the NU attack and it will be in the trick bag next year.

Wrong—But!

Prior to the start of the season, I tabbed the Huskers to win 6 and lose 4, which turned out to be a wrong guess, but not a ridiculous one . . . In view of the personnel and their performances against Texas, Army and Oklahoma, it wasn't wishful thinking to expect two more wins . . . Where I goofed, however, was in my choice of victories. I predicted wins over Iowa State, Colorado, Oklahoma State, Kansas, Kansas State and Army—hitting only K-State and Army. NU won two of the 4 games I considered the toughest . . . Incidentally, I did forecast the Big 8 champion back last summer when I voted for Kansas to wrestle the title away from Okhahoma . . . This is only salve, though, for predicting a 4th place finish for the Cornhuskers.

Hansen Surprised By Rookie Of Year Tag

Ft. Knox, Ky. (AP) — Pvt. Ron Hansen tripped and almost fell on the parade ground Monday after learning he had been picked as the American League's Rookie of the Year for 1960.

"I can't believe it . . . unbelievable," said the 22-year-old shortstop for the Baltimore Orioles, dropping out of the close order drill formation at the armor center.

Hansen, whose bat and glove work helped catapult the Orioles from 6th place to second in one year, collected 22 of 24 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The other two were split between his teammates, first baseman Jim Gentile and pitcher Chuck Estrada.

"I'm so surprised at this, there is nothing to say. This is something every ball player dreams of but never believes will happen."

The past 8 weeks, he added, "have been nothing but excitement. I got married (to the former Adele Keller, Baltimore), entered the Army, and now this award. What's going to happen next?"

Hansen, Oxford, Neb., native and now a resident of Albany, Calif., is the 4th shortstop win in the last 8 years and the first Oriole ever named in the 12-year-history of the award.

The 6-foot-3, 190-pound player, rapped out 22 homers and drove in 82 runs in his first full year in the majors, ending with a .255 batting average.

He was in the Orioles' lineup in 1958 and 1959, but played only 16 games and retained his eligibility for the rookie honors.

1956 Debut

Hansen started with Class C Stockton, Calif., in 1956, hitting .289 and driving in 84 runs and 140 games. Injuries kept him out the next year but in 1958 he went to Knoxville and finished with a .216 average.

He hit .256 the following year for Vancouver of the AAA Pacific Coast lea , then moved on to the Orioles.

One of Hansen's competitors, Gentile, finished with a .289 average whil Estrada hung up an impressive 18-11 record in his first season.

Hansen said he has no complaints about the Army. "The training is good for me. It will, however, probably keep me from training with the Orioles next year."

He won't be released from here until April 15, 1961, then goes into the reserves.

HANSEN . . . unbelievable.

Gopher Margin Scant 7 Votes

. . . IOWA 2ND; MISSOURI 5TH

By Associated Press

Minnesota's once-beaten Gophers regained first place Monday in the Associated Press' weekly football poll in a close battle with Iowa and Mississippi.

Missouri, which had taken over the No. 1 spot a week ago after Minnesota was upset by Purdue, fell all the way to 5th place following its first loss, to Kansas.

Balloting was so close that the National Championship which will be based on next week's final vote remained in doubt. Perhaps no poll since the AP national rankings were inaugurated in 1936 is heading into such a photo finish.

Minnesota received 424½ points, Iowa 417½, and Mississippi 398.

Ironically, the No. 1 team and champion in 1936 was Minnesota, over Louisiana State. Minnesota teams also ranked No. 1 in 1940 and 1941.

While Minnesota and Iowa have finished their regular season as co-champs of the Big 10, Mississippi has a final game with Mississippi State Saturday after an open date last week.

Iowa received the most first place votes, 17½, with Minneosta getting 13½.

One of the 48 selectors couldn't pick between the two, giving each half a first place vote. Mississippi accounted for 13 first place ballots.

The difference was in second and 3rd place votes, where Minnesota held a slight edge over Iowa.

During the regular season, Iowa lost only to Minnesota, 27-10. Minnesota was beaten only by Purdle, 23-14. Iowa was No. 2 and Minneosta No. 4 last week.

Then Minnesota ended its season by beating Wisconsin 26-7, and Iowa blanked Notre Dame 28-0.

The University of Washington, the Big 5 Conference champion and host team in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2, moved up from 5th to 4th place.

Washington had a scare Saturday before edging Washington State 8-7.

Missouri's skid followed its 23-7 defeat by Kansas Saturday. The Kansas victory moved the Jayhawks into the No. 10 spot. Duke, No. 6, a week ago, dropped out of the Top 10 after dropping a 7-6 decision to North Carolina.

Arkansas, which ended its regular season by triming Texas Tech 34-6, advanced from No. 7 to 6th place.

McDole Draft Pick By AFL

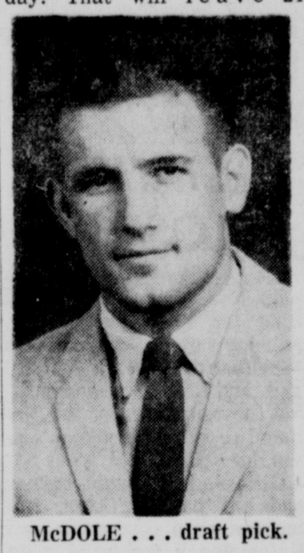

. . . DENVER TABS NU TACKLE

Dallas (AP)—Ken Rice, Auburn tackle, was the first draft choice of the American Football League Monday. Rice was drawn by Buffalo, which got the first choice due to its standings in the league race.

Tom Brown, Minnesota guard; Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Bob Gaiters, New Mexico State halfback; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Earl Faison, Indiana end, and Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, were first choices of the other 7 clubs in the league.

Bown was drawn by New York, Mason by Boston, Gaiters by Denver, Rutgens by Oakland, Holub by Dallas, Faison by Los Angeles and Ditka by Pittsburgh.

The draft was conducted by telephone and only 5 rounds were completed. The other will be announced today. That will leave 24 rounds to be held in mid-December in a meeting of the league in Dallas.

McDOLE . . . draft pick.

Commissioner Joe Foss said none of the players drafted by the league could be signed to contracts until they had completed their college eligibility.

This means, Foss said, that he will not approve any contracts signed by players before they have finished football, including the bowl games.

There were some suits in court this year over the National Football League signing players before they had competed in bowl games. The AFL won each case.

Tackle Roland McDole of Nebraska and end Danny LaRose of Missouri were the only Big 8 Conference players chosen in the first 5 rounds.

McDole was the 4th choice of the Denver Broncos while LaRose was a 3rd round selection of the Boston Patriots.

Draft choices of the 8 AFL clubs:

Buffalo—Ken Rice, tackle, Auburn; Billy Shaw, tackle, Georgia Tech; Art Baker, fullback, Syracuse (Tom Gilburg, tackle, Syracuse, obtained in trade with New York for Sid Youngelman, tackle); Stewart Barber, tackle, Penn State; Norman Snead, quarterback, Wake Forest.

New York—Tom Brown, guard; Minnesota; Herb Adderley, halfback, Michigan; third draft choice, Tom Gilburg, tackle, Syracuse, traded to Buffalo; 4th draft choice, Arnold Davis, end, Baylor, traded to Denver; Tom Matte, quarterback, Ohio State.

Boston—Tommy Mason, halfback, Tulane; Rip Hawkins, center, North Carolina; Danny LaRose, end, Missouri; Mike Zeno, guard, Virginia Tech; Fran Tarkenton, quarterback, Georgia.

Denver—Bob Gaiters, halfback, New Mexico State; Jerry Hill, halfback, Wyoming; Charles Strange, center, Louisiana State; (Arnold Davis, end Baylor, obtained from New York in trade for Joe Paglieri); Roland McDole, tackle, Nebraska; Charles Cowan, end, New Mexico Highlands.

Oakland—Joe Rutgens, tackle, Illinois; George Fleming, halfback, Washington; Myron Pottios, guard, Notre Dame; Elbert Kimbrough, end, Northwestern; Dick Norman, quarterback, Stanford.

Dallas — E. J. Holub, center, Texas Tech; Robert Lilly, tackle, Texas Christian; Jim Tyrer, tackle, Ohio State; Claude (Tee) Morrman, end, Duke; Jerry Mays, tackle, Southern Methodist.

Los Angeles—Earl Faison, end, Indiana; Keith Lincoln, halfback, Washington State; Marlin McKeever, end, Southern California; James Johnson, halfback, UCLA; Bill Kilmer, halfback-quarterback, UCLA.

Houston—Mike Ditka, end, Pittsburgh; Tom Goode, center, Mississippi State; Walter Suggs, tackle, Mississippi State; Bobby Walden, halfback, Georgia; Monte Lee, guard, Texas.

Ex-Cub Pilot Scheffing Hired To Rebuild Tigers

. . . NEW MANAGER GETS 2 YEARS, $35,000

Detroit (AP)—Bob Scheffing, a stocky ex-catcher with a reputation for handling young players, Monday was hired to manage the Detroit Tigers and restore vigor to the ailing club.

The 45-year-old greying former pilot of the Chicago Cubs got a two-year contract at an estimated yearly salary of $35,000.

The veteran National Leaguer received the job after a 7-week search by the Tigers for a successor to Joe Gordon, who quit in a surprise Oct. 3, one day after the end of the 1960 season.

"We hired Bob for two reasons," said John Fetzer, Tiger president for only a little more than a month.

"He came about as highly recommended as any manager could be. Everyone we spoke to has a high regard for him.

"And he's considered a fine developer of young talent. I'm sure he's the man who can get the job done for us."

Scheffing, the Tigers' choice after Casey Stengel turned down the job, commented cautiously.

"I don't feel I'm qualified to talk about the Tigers' problems right now," he said. "All I know is that they have them.

"But I'm impressed with the records some of the young players are bringing up with them from the minors."

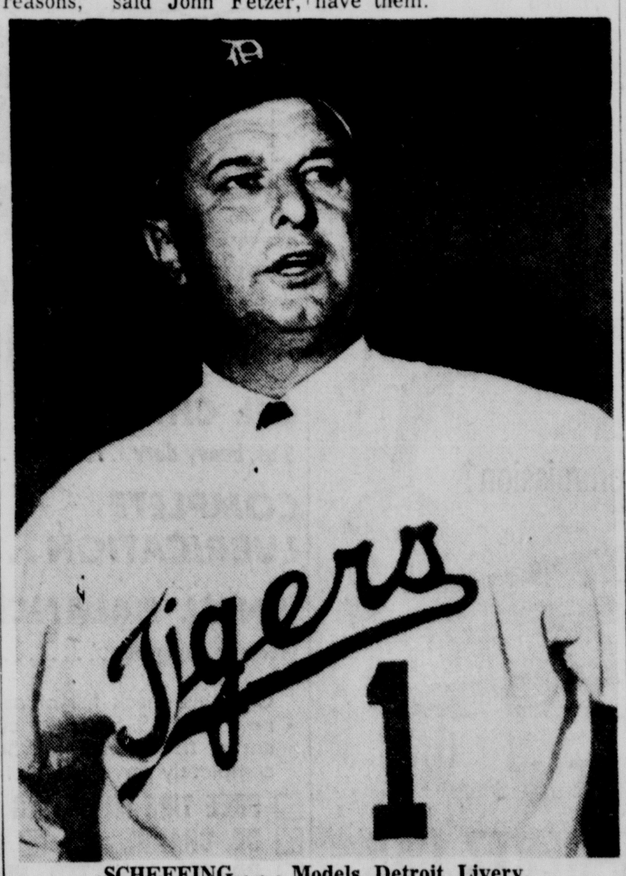

Scheffing, a St. Louis native, flew here from the Scottsdale, Ariz., home for the press conference announcement of his signing.

The new manager faces an uphill chore in returning the Tigers to prominence in the American League. The club hasn't had a contender since 1950 and has finished as high as 4th only twice in the last 10 seasons.

Gordon, who held the job only two months following the managerial trade that sent Jimmie Dykes to Cleveland, brought the 1960 Tigers home 6th.

The Tigers' hunt for their 8th manager since 1952 was completed only after Stengel turned down the job.

Stengel, let loose by the New York Yankees after winning 10 pennants in 12 years, was the first choice.

SCHEFFING . . . Models Detroit Livery.

McDole Happy And Undecided

Ron McDole, star Nebraska tackle drafted Monday by Denver of the American Football League, termed his selection "a great honor."

Informed of the news by The Star at the annual University Club gridiron banquet, McDole said:

"It's a great honor and I am happy, of course, but I'm just not sure what I'm going to do yet—except that I want to play pro football.

"I've already been drafted by Winnipeg of the Canadian League and I've heard the usual 'senior' talk about pro scouts and offers, but I just don't know what I'll do right now."

O'Malley Okays 'Proper' LA Expansion

Los Angeles (AP) — The boss of the Los Angeles Dodgers said Monday he won't oppose establisment of an American League team here—under the proper conditions.

But it seems certain there'll be a lot more palavering before any deal is made.

Dodger owner Walter O'Malley met for more than hour Monday with the New York Yankee owner Del Webb, chairman of the American League's expansion committee.

Afterward, both issued statements saying they will meet today in New York with the presidents of the two leagues and the baseball commissioner.

The American League has announced plans to establish a Los Angeles club in 1961—but plans are murky and no owner for such a franchise has been approved.

The matter comes up at the American League meeting in New York.

O'Malley's stand has long been a question mark. Any move here would require his approval, unless baseball's present rules governing such matters are changed.

He laid down these terms He won't fight a move here if it is more later than 1961, and if the new team is located 15 miles or more from Dodger Stadium, now being built in downtown Los Angeles.

"In other words," he said, "toward Long Beach, Orange County, San Diego or San Bernardino, to make it a true expansion."

O'Malley said he is opposed to an American League club in 1961 because he does not want sharing of the "crowded schedule" in the Coliseum.

"Both leagues should agree," O'Malley said, "on a sensible and orderly program and I have no desire to take a position that will not be the best for baseball."

He said the question of compensating the Dodgers for coming here is a lesser condition.

"The operating franchise owners," he said, "should be people genuinely interested in baseball and not just temporary publicity seekers or men seeking to exploit baseball for other businesses."

City Preps Set District Tournament

Lincoln's 4 Class A prep basketball teams got one cage chore out of the way before the season even opens Monday night.

The 4 clubs decided on dates, site and pairings for the Class A district basketball tournament. An early decision this year on the basketball classifications by the Nebraska School Activities Assn. allowed the plans to be made well in advance.

Pershing Municipal Auditorium will again host the 4-team tourney, on March 1-3.

Pairings pit Lincoln High vs Lincoln Northeast in the 7 p.m. opener, followed by Lincoln Southeast vs Pius X at 8:45. The championship game will be an 8 p.m. contest.

Ralph Beechner is tournament director.

GIANTS LOSE 2

New York (AP) — The crippled New York Giants, battling for the Eastern title, Monday lost two key players —halfback Frank Gifford and end Jim Katcavage — for the remainder of the National Football League season.

Gifford, breakaway runner and pass-catching star, suffered a deep concussion and Katcavage a fractured right collarbone in Sunday's bruising clash with the conference leading Philadelphia Eagles at the Yankee Stadium.

The Giants reported the 30-year-old Gifford had suffered no permanent injury and was resting comfortably, but that he will be sidelined for 30 days.

The 205-pounder from Southern California was knocked unconscious by 235-pound Chuck Bednarik's jarring tackle in the closing minutes of play. Philadelphia (7-1) won 17-10, stretching its lead over the runnerup Giants (5-2-1). The teams meet at Philadelphia this Sunday.

MacKay Cops Tennis Opener

Brisbane, Australia, (Tuesday) (AP) — Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, O., sent the United States into a 1-0 lead in the interzone Davis Cup tennis semi-finals today by defeating Eddie Dungo of the Philippines, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0 in a rain-interrupted match.

The second test sent Earl Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis against Johhny Jose.

Wednesday doubles will match Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Cali., and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis against Jose and Dungo. If the United States gets past the Philippines, the next opponent is Italy in the interzone final.

122 KILLS

Minnesotans Elated With Rating—Want Rose Trip

Minneapolis (AP) — Minnesota's Cooke Hall athletic plant rang with howls of triumph, rebel yells and singing coaches Monday when the latest Associated Press football poll results were announced.

"We love it," shouted coach Murray Warmath, "we're grateful for it and we think we deserve it."

Minnesota scraped back into first place in the next-to-last AP poll by a hairline margin over Iowa and Mississippi.

Warmath and his assistants —half of them southerners like himself—burst into rebel howls and raced down the Cooke Hall corridors on their way to a dinner, opening office doors and announcing the news.

"We just hope we stay up there," Warmath said. "I don't know what this means for the Rose Bowl, but I hope it's good."

Warmath and the Gophers, Big 10 co-champions this year after a spectacular rise from last place in 1959, want the Rose Bowl date that no Minnesota team has won.

For this they are in stiff competition with Navy and Iowa.

"We beat Iowa 27-10 and I think it's right that we should be ranked ahead of them," said Gopher halfback Dave Mulholland.

"But I know nobody on this team would want to take anything from Iowa. We're glad to be where we are."

Earlier in the day, Warmath told the Tribune Quarterback Club meeting his team won 8 of its 9 games with an uncomplicated formula.

"We just kept belting and hitting until they made mistakes and gave us the ball. We didn't have too many long marches on offense but every time we got the ball inside the 20 we scored a touchdown."

He called his big defensive line "one of the finest in college football" and saluted assistant coach Bob Bossons for perfecting the team's patterns on defense.

"But the credit, directly and exclusively, for our successful year goes right to the players who played with loyalty, courage and resolution."

Big 10 May Take Cotton Bowl Contract In Future

Minneapolis (AP) — Selection of a non-Big 10 team as the eastern representative in the Rose Bowl might result in a permanent break between the Big 10 and the Rose Bowl, football writer Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Tribune said Monday night.

In that case, Cullum wrote, a tie-up between the Big 10 and the Southwest Conference in the Cotton Bowl would be possible within a year or two.

Wrote Cullum:

"Western Conference people who have been favorable to renewal of a Rose Bowl contract, and still are, would not stay in line if the Athletic Association of Western Universities adopted a policy of preferring some other eastern opponent and taking a Big 10 team only when nothing else was available."

Reports from the west coast indicate Navy will be the leading choice as an opponent for Washington if the Middies beat Army Saturday.

Minnesota and Iowa of the Big 10, 1-2 in the Associated Press, national poll, both want the bid.

Cullum said a Cotton Bowl committee will attend the Big 10 meeting in December "with an offer of a permanent contract for games between the Big 10 and Southwestern Conference representatives."

The Big 10 last year dumped its agreement with the Rose Bowl but its individual members remain eligible to accept a bid. The Far West schools have no contractual obligations to invite a Big 10 team.

The Big 10 vote on a Rose Bowl pact now is deadlocked at 5-5. Cullum said only one vote therefore would be needed to swing the conference to the Cotton Bowl.

Penn State OKs Liberty Bowl Berth

University Park, Pa. (AP) — Penn State football players and coaches voted unanimously Monday night to accept an invitation to play in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia Dec. 17.

A final decision was left to Dr. Eric A. Walker, the university president.

The players voted on the offer at a dinner. They had returned from their weekend in Pittsburgh where a 14-3 victory over arch-rival Pitt won them the bid to play in the bowl a second straight year. It gave State a 6-3 record for the seasom.

The interim committee of the athletic advisory board also gave its approval to the bowl.

State played in the inaugural of the bowl last year, beating Alabama, 7-0.

Wismer Selling Redskin Holding

New York (AP) — Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans of the American Football League, said he has made formal notice for an arrangement to sell his 25 per cent interest in the Washington Redskins of the National League.

Wismer said he has notified George Preston Marshall, who owns 51 per cent of the Skins, that he has accepted an offer of $350,000 for his 200 shares from William B. MacDonald.

Guglielmi Retains Support Of Coach

Washington (AP) — Booed by fans Sunday, quarterback Ralph Guglielmi of the Whashington Redskins Monday retained support where it counts. Coach Mike Nixon said he still sees a great future for Guglielmi.

"I think the potential is there," Nixon added. "Great quarterbacks are not made overnight."

Guglielmi's status as a starter arose as a matter of course in the usual Monday hindsight exercise. On Sunday the St. Louis Cards trimmed the Redskins, 26-14, and Guglielmi completed only 7 of 19 passes for 57 yards.

Tennessee Tech Tangerine Pick

Orlando, Fla. (AP)—Tennessee Tech, Ohio Valley Conference leader has accepted a bid to play in the 15th annual Tangerine Bowl football game at Orlando Dec. 30.

Tennessee Tech, located at Cookeville, has won 7 of 9. Its traditional season finale against Middle Tennessee remains.

Tech coach Wilburn Tucker accepted the bid to the NCAA-approved charity game. The Eagles will be making their second appearance in the Elks-sponsored game. Tennessee Tech was defeated by East Texas State 33-0 in the game Jan. 1, 1953.

Baylor Accepts Gator Berth Against Florida

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — The offensive-minded Baylor Bears with 3 of the top players in the Southwest Conference will play in the 16th annual Gator Bowl football game Dec. 31.

Selection committee chairman John Piombo said Monday he had received a definite acceptance from John Bridgers, Baylor football coach and athletic director.

The other Gator Bowl berth has been offered to the Florida Gators but Southeastern Conference rules prohibit acceptance of a bid until a team's season is over. Florida closes its season against Miami Saturday night.

Baylor like Florida has a 7-2 record and one game remaining. The Bears play Rice, also 7-2, Saturday.

Bridgers said the Baylor squad voted unanimously to accept the Gator Bowl invitation. The Bears from Waco, Tex., have been contacted by several other bowls, he added.

"I agree wholeheartedly with my squad that the most wonderful thing that could happen to us would be to play a postseason game in Florida," the Baylor coach told Gator Bowl officials.

"And I can guarantee you we will put the ball in the air," he went on. "The fans like offensive football and we throw the ball."

The trip will be Baylor's second to the Gator Bowl. The 1954 team was beaten by Auburn 33-13. Since then the Gator Bowl stadium has been enlarged and will seat approximately 48,000.

Baylor has defeated Colorado 26-0; LSU 7-3; Arkansas 28-14; Texas Tech 14-7; Texas A & M 14-0; Southern California 35-14, and SMU 20-7.

Syracuse Not Going To Gotham

New York (AP) — The announcement by Syracuse University Monday that it has turned down all post season football bowl bids probably sounded the death knell of the proposed Gotham Bowl here Dec. 3.

The bowl committee had been counting heavily on Syracuse.

Bob Reddy, a committee member, admitted the outlook appeared gloomy.

"We had hoped to attract a good game," he said. "We had offered bids to Army and Navy, hoping to line up the winner of next week's service game against Syracuse.

"Now we don't know what to do. We have not received any acceptances from what we consider good teams.

"We still hope to retain the Gotham Bowl. We should know in a day or two what we'll do.

Hall Vows Cadets Will Atone For '59

... ARMY RECALLS 43-12 LOSS

New York (AP) — Dale Hall, Army's head football coach, predicted Monday that his Cadets will offer much sterner opposition to Navy in Saturday's traditional service game than they did a year ago.

Navy won 43-12 last year.

"I know we'll come into the game better prepared this time," Hall said. "We made an experiment this year and I think it's paying off.

"Last year the men were perhaps overworked and suffered a letdown in the Navy game. This year we made a definite effort to rest the team. Bring them in slower and get them up for the Navy game.

"We started practice later and didn't push the players too hard. The idea was to get them in top shape for Navy and I think we have succeeded."

Hall said he is glad Navy has been made the favorite because "it should give our team a psychological edge."

The Army mentor acknowledged Navy should be favorite because of its superior manpower, over-all strength and the presence of Joe Bellino, whom he called one of the finest college backs in the country.

"Bellino is the best football player we'll be called upon to face all year," he said. "Navy has a number of other fine players, but he's the big difference.

"I rate Bellino a better all-around football player than Ernie Davis of Syracuse. Davis has the edge only in raw speed, but Bellino is quick, too. Besides his running ability, he has lots of other things going for him. He kicks, receives and passes the ball."

Hall declined to predict the outcome of Saturday's game at Philadelphia but he did say Army was determined to atone for last year's thrashing.

"Our whole Academy has suffered tremendously because of the heavy los to Navy last year," he said. "They almost wiped us off the field. We've lived with this humiliation all year.

"Our men will be out to seek revenge. I guarantee there'll be some head-knocking next Saturday."

The pair, Mrs. Royal Henline, 44, and her daughter Linda, 16, both of 3224 No. 69th, were reported in good condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Both suffered lacerations.

Police said the switch-engine carried the Henline car 50 feet down the tracks.

FAMILY EXPENSES GROWING?

Here's an income that can grow to help you meet them

Maybe there's nothing much you can do to stop family expenses from going up. But here's something you can do that might help your income increase, too.

A second income that can grow

Let's suppose you become a shareowner in a company that's well-managed and progressive. And it grows in size and profits. This means that your income from dividends can grow, too. And your stock might grow in value. You have a chance to grow as American business grows.

The growing number of investors

Today more than twelve million Americans are shareowners. In recent years there has been an average of 860,000 new investors annually. Nearly half of them earn from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. The first investments of practically all of them were small.

What about the risk?

Reduce it to a minimum by following these simple rules. Invest only with funds you don't need for current living or to provide for emergencies. Don't risk a penny without the facts. Tips and rumors are never enough. Stock prices fluctuate like the price of anything else.

Easiest and pleasantest of all, select a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange and drop in to get acquainted. The partner or registered representative who serves you there has met the Exchange's rules for knowledge, experience and character. He helps new investors every day. He'll be happy to help you. Ask whether preferred stock or bonds, with their relatively stable income, would suit you better.

What's the first step?

Give yourself the pleasure of reading our wonderfully useful booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." It lists some 375 common stocks that have paid a cash dividend every 3 months for 20 years or more. And it's packed with other useful information about such things as yield, earning power, changing prices and the Monthly Investment Plan. Through this plan you can acquire stock in some of America's greatest companies by investing with as little as $40 every three months.

NEW WORLDS UNFOLD...

The woods are only a few miles from home, but when he is there, the hunter is a thousand miles from his problems and responsibilities. It is easy to forget the cares of his job while spending a few hours in a place where nature reminds unscarred by man's progress, and his only adversaries are targets for his well aimed shots. For the man who loves to hunt, a whole new world unfolds when he walks into the woods, and it is an even better world when his gun and other hunting equipment are just the kind he wants. For the hunter who wants new equipment, Journal and Star Want Ads offer a convenient, low-cost way to sell older hunting gear for quick cash. It pays to read the sporting equipment ads, too, because in them are advertised many items of interest to the hunter. Turn now to the Want Ad section.

STOCKS CLOSE SLIGHTLY UP

New York (AP)—The stock market managed a nudge to the upside Monday in fairly active trading. Prices were irregular much of the day.

Cross currents were apparent in tax selling and switching and the list had no incentive to anywhere in particular. Among the most heavily traded stocks, winners were in the majority and the emphasis here was on speculative favorites among the vending machine, bowling equipment and electronic issues.

The Associated Press average rose .60 to 214.90 with the industrials up .60, the rails up .10 and the utilities up .60.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose .92 to 604.54, maintaining its position above the important 600 level.

Of 1,239 issues traded, 559 advanced and 425 declined. New highs for the year totalled 35 and new lows 29.

Volume was 3.09 million shares compared with 2.76 million Friday.

U.S. government bonds again declined in light dealings. Corporate bonds were down also.

Murdock Hostelry Has One Roomer

. . . AND HE DOESN'T PAY

By Gene Budig

Murdock—Tired of battling that endless stream of blaring lights?

Need a soft spot to lay your head for the night?

If so, Mr Motorist, DON'T stop at the hotel here.

There's no vacancy—nor will there be one in the foreseeable future.

"I need all the room myself," snorts William O. Gillespie, the crusty manager-owner.

"And besides," he added, "I'm getting a little too old to hustle hot towels."

The chipper Murdock gent is crowding 87.

As far as Gillespie is concerned, the hotel has had its day. The sole occupant has no intentions of re-opening the large two-story, wooden building to the public.

Just For Friends

The one-time bell hop, however, does keep a couple of the suites in A-1 shape for visiting friends and relatives.

The remainder of the 17-room hotel is "pretty much as it was 15 years ago," he said. Much of the space is used for personal storage.

Gillespie's two sons—Rollie of Casper, Wyo., and Harry of North Loup—are frequent guests.

"There's always a clean room waiting for the boys when they drop in," he said.

Recalling his many years in the "puttin' up for the night" business, Gillespie quickly remembered a fancy-dressed gentleman from Virginia.

"He was probably the easiest customer I've ever had to deal with.

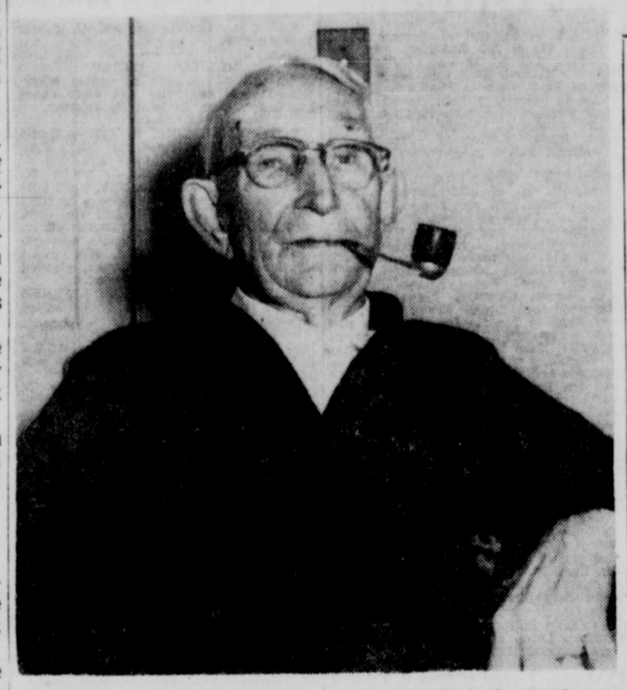

"For nearly a month, he did nothing but sit in his room and pay his bills. He even tipped now and then.

"A couple days after he left, I found out that he was wanted for a couple bank jobs (robberies)."

With a smile of recollection, Gillespie said: "I've put up all kinds."

But, he sternly added, "There's no vacancies."

Redstone Is Fizzle

Man-In-Space Plans Meet A New Setback

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — America's hopes of rocketing a man into space early next year were dealt a crushing blow Monday by the third straight failure of an unmanned space capsule launching.

One official said Monday's fizzle may have forfeited this nation's last chance to beat Russia in the race to send the first man aloft.

Soviet scientists are believed putting every effort into sending a man into orbit within a few months. They showed they apparently have the capability when they hurled a 5-ton animal-laden space craft into orbit and brought it back to earth unharmed last August.

Most Important

A Redstone rocket was to carry the one-ton project Mercury capsule 130 miles up and 220 miles down the Atlantic missile range Monday. The shot — most important so far in the Mercury program — was to be a vital forerunner of a plan to boost a U.S. astronaut on an identical 16-minute ballistic flight next February or March. A manned orbit flight is scheduled for late 1961.

The Redstone ignited when the countdown reached zero. But an automatic sequence system detected last-second trouble and ordered engine cutoff.

Almost simultaneously, a rocket escape tower broke loose from the capsule and shot several thousand feet into the air, spiraling back to the cape and landing about 2,000 feet from the launch pad.

The 83-foot redstone and the bell-shaped capsule remained on the pad, apparently undamaged.

All 7 astronauts were here for the test.

—JAPAN'S ELECTION—

Socialist Neutralism Is Buried

. . . Elated Ikeda Feels

Tokyo (Tuesday) (AP)—Elated by the national election victory of his Conservatives, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda took the position Tuesday that Japanese voters have buried Socialist neutralism.

Ikeda

The 60-year-old leader of the Liberal Democrats told reporters he hopes to meet in Washington with President-elect John F. Kennedy. But that probably will be next year.

Ikeda and his party pitched their campaign squarely on the new security treaty with the United States—violently opposed by the Socialists—and prosperity at home.

Official returns from Sunday's parliamentary elections gave the Liberal Democrats 296 seats in the 467-seat House of Representatives, a gain of 13; the Socialists 145, a gain of 23; the middle road Democratic Socialists 17, a loss of 23, and the Communists 3, a gain of 2. Independents got 5 and the Agrarian Party 1.

Cheerful and relaxed, Ikeda told a news conference that the vote proves the Japanese people support the new security treaty with the United States.

Violent leftist demonstrations against the pact forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's good will visit last June.

"As far as the security treaty is concerned," the prime minister added, "The issue has been settled and is now closed."

The Diet, or Parliament, was dissolved and the general election was called to ask for a mandate on the pact, which provides U.S. forces bases in Japan for at least 10 more years.

Suggestions For Juvenile Judge Eyed

Citizens' groups who worked for the passage of the juvenile court amendment in Lancaster County are hoping to get their proposals on candidates for the judgeship to Gov. Dwight Burney by Wednesday.

The representatives of civic and governmental bodies met Monday in a second session to discuss possible attorney-candidates to be submitted to the governor for his consideration in making the appointment.

Under the proposed Lancaster County setup, the governor will make the appointment until the next judgeship election in two years.

Also meeting to consider a slate of candidates to present to Gov. Burney was the Lancaster County Bar Assn.

Both groups received requests from the governor to submit a list of candidates for the newly-created juvenile court post.

Included among the organizations and committees represented at the citizen's committee meeting Monday were the Mayor's Committee on Youth, the Lincoln Citizens Committee for Children, the Lincoln public schools administration, the police department, Malone Community Center, Lincoln Council of Churches, Lincoln Community Council, Lancaster County Bar Assn., and Catholic Social Services.

E. J. Schneider New Chamber VP

Ervin J. Schneider, Auburn, was elected district vice president at the District 2 Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce organizational meeting held in Lincoln Monday.

Loyal Shannon, Nebraska City, was named district secretary. The general information program featured a question and answer period directed to solve problems in the district.

Members of the board of directors include: Schneider and Shannon; William Bedwell of Falls City; Leland Grandt, Crete; Harry Lilly, Earl T. Luff, GeorgeMechling and Burnham Yates, all of Lincoln; Ralph Misko, York; George Schaefer and Fred Lentz, Beatrice.

Rabbi Will Speak At Union College

Rabbi Sidney H. Brooks of Temple Israel, Omaha, will speak at chapel at Union College Monday at 9:20 a.m. on "What We Jews Believe."

The rabbi will appear as a representative of the Jewish Chatauqua Society, an organization to create better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education.

Attache Is Booted By Russ

. . . 4th In 13 Months

Moscow (AP) — Maj. Irving T. McDonald, assistant U.S. air attaches, Monday was ordered to leave the Soviet Union. Accused of illegal intelligence activities, he is the fourth U.S. Embassy official to be expelled in 13 months on some form of espionage charge.

Minister counsellor Edward L. Freers was called to the Soviet Foreign Office Monday afternoon and told that McDonald's presence in the Soviet Union was no longer desirable and he must leave as soon as possible.

The 34-year-old officer from Provincetown, Mass., is on a trip in the Ural Mountains and is expected back Wednesday. Fluent in Russian, he arrived here April 21, 1959, with his wife and two children. In 1956 he was awarded the Legion of Merit for work with the National Security Agency, a top-secret communications outfit specializing in U.S. and foreign codes.

The Soviet official charged that McDonald posed as a tourist near the city of Kharkov Oct. 18 in an area around military installations. He was given a warning then, the official said.

(In Washington, State Department officials were not surprised. They said that after McDonald received his warning in August his expulsion was regarded as a virtual certainty.)

It was supposed here that McDonald's expulsion was a retaliation for the arrest of Igor Y. Melekh, chief of the Russian translation section of the United Nations. Melekh, arrested at his New York apartment Oct. 28, is accused of espionage and faces trial in U.S. courts.

Hammarskjold Warns:

U.N. Almost Bankrupt

Congo Task Must End Unless Money Raised

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold Monday warned that the United Nations is on the verge of bankruptcy and will be forced to "liquidate" its military force in the Congo unless members contribute much more money at a faster rat Hammarskjold's warning came in the midst of a deepening U.N. General Assembly quarrel over the Congo crisis and reflected repeated communist delegations' declarations that they would not pay one cent for the "dirty operation" in the Congo. The U.N. emergency force in the Middle East also was threatened by lack of funds.

Grim Picture

Hammarskj financial picture presented to the Administrative and Budgetary Committee was grim.

"There will be a cash deficit by Dec. 31 of approximately $2 million," he said. "This amounts to a cash balance of $16.5 million."

Hammarskjold said the U.N. organization "must find ways" of increasing available cash resources by at least $20 million.

"The organization cannot have it both ways," he said. "It must either pursue its policy, as represented by the presence of the force in the Congo, and make appropriate and speedy arrangement for covering the cost, or it must take the initial steps for a liquidation of the military operation and the reversal of the policy which this would mean . . ."

Beemer Delegation Requests High Priority For Spur 151

A Beemer delegation asked the State Highway Advisory Commission Monday to give high priority to the hard surfacing of a Nebraska 151 spur from Beemer north about 5 miles to Nebraska 51.

Heavy movement of cattle to the Sioux City, Iowa, market and heavy inshipments of corn frm the northeast to cattle feeders in the Beemer area were cited as prime reasons for early surfacing of the stretch.

Specifically, the delegation asked that the spur north of Beemer be hard surfaced on the same bid letting that leads to the hard surfacing of Nebraska 51 between Wisner and Bancroft.

To reach Sioux City on all-weather roads from Beemer at present, drivers must first travel southeast 7 miles to reach Nebraska 9 just north of West Point, the commission was told.

Commission member Joseph Votava of Omaha wondered why cattle feeders didn't market their livestock at Omaha instead of Sioux City. Delegation members said the Sioux City market sometimes pays higher prices than does Omaha.

Ray Steffensmeier, president of the Beemer Chamber of Commerce, headed the delegation. Members included W. H. Hasebroock of West Point, Senator-elect; William Holtz, Beemer, a county commissioner; George McNamara, Beemer farmer, and Fred Buhk, retired Beemer postmaster.

CONELRAD ALERT NET GETS HELP

New York (AP)—Virtually all the nation's broadcasting stations were integrated directly into the Conelrad alert system Monday with the signing of agreements between the two major news services, the Air Force and the Federal Communications Commission.

The agreements permit instant use by the U.S. Air Defense Command of Associated Press and United Press International wires serving practically all radio and TV stations for transmission of a Conelrad alert.

"Let's hope we never have to use it," said Federal Communications Commissioner Robert E. Lee as he signed the agreement with the Associated Press in the AP building Monday afternoon. Signing for the Air Force was John J. McLaughlin, administrative assistant to the secretary of the Air Force. Harry T. Montgomery, AP assistant general manager, signed for AP. The UPI signing was conducted separately.

By utilizing wire facilities of the AP and UPI, the time for reaching broadcasting stations will be cut to between 3 and 8 minutes. Telephonic communication, used heretofore in tests, required about an hour.

On receipt of a warning, stations would switch to special wave lengths and begin carrying out a prescribed series of broadcast alerts.

Under the agreement, a standby wire from the U.S. Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs will be leased by the government and connected to AP in New York and UPI in Chicago.

In the event of an emergency, a single man in the U.S. air defense command would flash a signal which would be transmitted automatically on the radio wires of both news services.

Bridgeport Lawyer Gets Term At Pen

Bridgeport (AP) — Bridgeport attorney Paul Rhodes was found guilty of contempt of District Court and sentenced to 9 months in the Nebraska Penitentiary Monday.

District Judge R. M. Van Steenberg also set a $2,500 fine and ruled that Rhodes pay all court costs. The hearing was reopened Monday after several continuances.

Neither Rhodes nor his attorney appeared in court. His secretary presented a motion for continuance and an affidavit from a medical doctor saying Rhodes' health would not permit his appearance.

Motion Overruled

Judge Van Steenberg overruled the motion after hearing testimony from several witnesses, including a private detective from Denver hired by Morrill County Attorney James Macken. The detective testified about Rhodes' activities in Denver.

Also testifying Monday was Morrill County Judge Robert McFarland. Earlier this year McFarland was fined $500 and sentenced to 60 days in Morrill County jail.

Van Steenberg said Monday he imposed a heavier fine on Rhodes because he is an attorney. McFarland is not.

Morrison Says 'Not Now In Partisan Politics'

By Don Walton

Governor-elect Frank Morris on Monday divorced himself for the time being from "partisan political activity."

In an extraordinary press conference called by the Democratic governor - elect, Morrison told newsmen he will not at this time "get involved personally in the machinery of partisan politics."

Such a course of action appeared to have been dictated by Morrison's urgent concern to establish a bi-partisan administration with a non-partisan approach to the Legislature.

The governor-elect's remarks were prompted by a news account of the Democratic state executive committee meeting in Lincoln Saturday.

The published report, Morrison said, intimated that he had participated in drawing organizational plans for the 1962 political campaign.

On Inaugural Ball

"The only reason I was at the meeting was to consult on the inaugural ball," he pointed out. "Plans for 1962 were not discussed in my presence."

"I have no political plans for 1962 at this time."

Involvement in partisan politics now would be 'premature," Morrison said.

Morrison's efforts to cut himself off from partisan political activity during the formulative period of his administration also appeared aimed at reassuring independent voters and Republicans who crossed party lines to support his candidacy:

'I am deeply aware of the faith and support evidenced by the activity of thousands of Democrats, many Republicans and independents who have indicated they believe in my program.

"I pledge to implement that program.

"I do not propose to take any action which would detract from the implementation of that program."

Governor For All'

His only desire at this time, Morrison said, is to be "the best possible governor for all of Nebraska."

Questioned further about his non-partisan approach, the governor - elect did point out:

'We need a two-party system. We need a strong and vigorous Democratic Party."

Queried about the poor relationship which has developed between Morrison and Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle, the new governor quoted:

"The overwhelming majority of Democratic voters have indicated faith in my program. It had the support of Democrats generally.

"I respectfuly invite the support of all Nebraskans, and that includes the leadership of the Democratic Party."

Boyle and State Chairman Russell Hanson, Morrison said, are 'in sympathy with my program."

Further, the governor-elect said, 'I will not allow any personal differences with anyone to take on the form of contentiousness."

Strehle Re-Elected

West Point — Frank C. Strehle Jr. was re-elected chief of the West Point Volunteer Fire Department. Harold Miller was renamed assistant chief for Company 1, and Don Benne as assistant chief for Company 2. William A. Toelle remains as secretary-treasurer.

The American Dietetic Association points out that when workers have a good breakfast, they work more efficiently. Manufacturers of cereals and breakfast foods informed the public of the nutritional benefits of their products last year with over $7½ million worth of national newspaper advertising.

In 1959, a record 6.9 billion cigars were produced in the U.S. Cigar manufacturers reached their best prospects with the help of over $6 million in national newspaper advertising, an increase in expenditure of nearly 20% over 1958.
